

New Emphasis on Quad-City Area 'Special' Students as Individuals with Strong, Weak Points

By GARY SCHNEIDER

Press-Record Staff Writer

Equal treatment of all special education students and the elimination of terminology indicating special physical or mental handicaps will be among the aims of Special Education District Region I of Madison County under its new director, Larry R. Dew, who will assume his duties Monday.

Such phrases as "educable mentally handicapped," "trainable," "mentally handicapped" and "socially maladjusted" have no place in a system where children are being helped in overcoming their handicaps, it is felt.

Under new laws governing special education, Dew hopes to be able to establish group training where each child is helped as an individual, with individual problems and strengths.

Dew, 27, replaces Mrs. Elveria Kuergels who leaves to become the coordinator of Special Education Region III in the Alton-Wood River area.

There was some disagreement between her and Granite City School District officials over the future direction and scope of special education.

Dew has held the post of supervisor of the special education region since Aug. 16, 1971, under Mrs. Kuergels' leadership.

He holds a master degree in special education and administration, awarded by Northern Illinois University in 1971. He also holds a bachelor degree in history and business administration from Monmouth College.

He was born and received his elementary and secondary education in Monmouth. Besides attending college there and at DeKalb, he attended Sophia University, Tokyo, Japan, and the University of Guam.

Dew was a special education teacher during the 1968-69 school year at Freeport before working two years for the government of Guam. He returned to Freeport in 1969 and taught an additional year there before accepting the supervisor's position with the special education district here.

He is a member of the Granite City and Madison County administrator associations, the Council for Exceptional Children, the Illinois Administrators of Special Education and the Council of Administrators of Special Education.

He, his wife, Judith, and their children, Lyndea Maria, 18 months, and Lash, Kathleen, two weeks, reside at 3029 Village Lane.

In addition to removing the "labels" from handicapped children, Dew hopes to turn the focus of special education toward pre-school children, specifically three- and four-year-olds.

"We hope to be able to help these children before they get into school so that they will be able to attain their fullest potential throughout their schooling," Dew explained.

He said the district has one year to plan the pre-school program and he hopes it can be in effect by September 1973.

Last year, the special education program here served 1,421 children from the Granite City, Madison and Venice school districts, including 930 speech correction students.

The total included 438 students with mental disabilities or adjustments, 975 with physical impairments and eight who were sent to special schools because no programs here could meet their needs.

The program is funded by the three school districts on percentages determined by a total student population. As a portion of the cost of staffing the program is provided by the state and federal governments.

This fiscal year, the program utilized a director, a supervisor, three psychologists, two intern psychologists and two secretaries. The proposed staff for next year consists of a director, a supervisor, three psychologists and three secretaries. The intern psychologist program has been discontinued as partly ineffective.

Dew will serve as director and a supervisor to fill his previous post is being sought.

The program is supervised by a board of three voting members, three non-voting members and three alternates. Jack Tolliver of the Venice School Board presently serves as chairman with Harold Fisk of the Madison board as vice chairman and George Moore of the Granite City District Nine board as secretary. The voting members rotate offices each year.

Non-voting members are the superintendents of the three schools districts, B. J. Davis of Granite City, John Pier of Venice and Fred Riddle of Madison.

Alternate board members are those who supervise the special education programs in each school district—Vasil Eftimoff of Granite City, Robert Vickers of Venice and Wade James of Madison.

WEATHER OUTLOOK

Sunny, hot 80s today, northwest wind 5-15 miles an hour. Temp. 85-90 tonight. Mostly sunny, high 80s Friday. Partly cloudy, high 80s-90s Saturday. High 90s-95 Sunday—near 90 degree, chance of showers.

Will Rebuild High School Auditorium

A $739,922 contract with S.M. Wilson Co. to rebuild the fire damaged auditorium at Granite City High School, was awarded last night as the Granite City Board of Education authorized a letter of intent with the construction firm for the project. The auditorium was extensively damaged by fire Nov. 30, 1970.

The firm was selected over three other construction companies whose base bids on the project exceeded Wilson's. Wilson's base bid was $746,086, plus extra costs for furnishings and building modifications.

Other bids were from L. Wolf Co., $768,372; Ed Moore Construction Co., $798,925; and G. H. Sternberg & Co., $807,515. Cost of the reconstruction was reduced 38,924 by the board as six building alternates were rejected, reducing the bid from Wilson to $707,162.

For purposes of the letter of intent, the board considered

$22,769 as the minimum for seats and furnishings, not included in the base bid, bringing the estimated cost to the $739,922 figure upon which the letter of intent is based.

The letter indicates that the board intends to enter into the contract with Wilson if the final negotiated price, after all construction alternates are selected, is within 10% of the $739,922 figure. That would leave the allowable range for the cost of the project between $665,300 and $809,814.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds for the school district, told board members he has been negotiating with the Wilson firm since bids were publicly opened Wednesday night to reduce the cost of the project but was unable to complete negotiations to determine a final contract price.

5-Day Fourth of July Festival Opens Friday

By VALERIE EVENEDEN

Press-Record Staff Writer

A mammoth fireworks display, midway rides and booths sponsored by local organizations—plus a teenage dance, softball tournaments and a band concert—will highlight the Fourth of July celebration at Wilson Park during the holiday weekend.

The five-day program will begin tomorrow, June 30, and end on Tuesday night, July 4. The Granite City Park District's gigantic fireworks exhibition, which annually attracts hundreds of area residents, is scheduled for 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Only one presentation of the colorful pyrotechnic show is planned this year.

The holiday program at Wilson Park will start at 6 p.m. Friday, when the Ray Sawyer midway rides and locally sponsored novelty booths will begin operations.

Activities at the park midway will continue from 6 p.m. to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday; and from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m. Sunday, Monday and Tuesday.

Matinee Sessions

Special features of the five-day festival will include two matinee sessions for children from 1 to 5 p.m. Saturday and Monday; all rides will be priced at 20 cents each during the matinees.

Between 2 and 4 p.m. on the same two days, Saturday and Monday, Willie Hillbrandt and Bill Guetber, widely-known clown entertainers, will stroll

Residents Threaten to Widen Gates at Lake

A group of Nameoki Township citizens, angered over apparent inaction of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District in installing a large culvert to lower the water level of Horseshoe Lake, appeared at the Nameoki Township Board meeting Monday night threatening to take action by themselves.

About 20 residents told the town board they could muster about 200 persons with shovels to widen and deepen the main drain at the south end of Horseshoe Lake to lower the water level.

They believe that a high lake level contributes to drainage problems in residential areas. The levee district has agreed to install two 36-inch culverts leading out of the lake but has taken no action, they charged. Granite City Steel Co. has agreed to fabricate an even larger outflow culvert with a control gate if the levee board will have it installed.

The levee district has estimated it would cost about $25,000 to install the larger culvert, they said. A levee spokesman told the Press-Record the possibility is being considered but that no commitment has been made for such an installation.

Douglas Teator, town clerk, indicated he will confer with levee district officials to see what action is planned.

The town board passed a resolution asking the levee board to hire a special attorney to obtain rights-of-way for the Dobrey Slough project. The resolution was presented by Mrs. Helen Hawkins of the Madison County Citizens' Environmental Group.

In other business, Teator read a letter which he has sent to Governor Richard B. Ogilvie asking his help in urging the state highway division to begin proposed widening and improvement of Route 203 from the northern limits of Granite City to Interstate 270.

Plans to widen the road to a four-lane highway have been postponed repeatedly and Teator cited poor condition of the pavement, a heavy traffic load and poor drainage along the right-of-way as reasons for immediate improvement.

He also cited the planned opening of a second Granite City high school in 1973 near Route 203 and Maryville Road, saying this will further overtax the road.

Albert Bell, highway commissioner, informed the board that sidewalks to crossing lights at the Maryville and Kreiner schools have been completed. The board was requested by the Madison County Maps and Plats Department to officially name Whippoorwill and Mockingbird lanes and Old Township Road. The three appear on a

Tax Collection To Start in GC, Bills Mailed

Paul Rutledge, treasurer of Granite City, announced this week that his office staff will begin collecting real estate and personal property taxes on Monday and will continue until August 11.

He is mailing tax bills to city residents the latter half of this week. Enclosed with the bills is a letter showing a breakdown of the tax dollar going to the various taxing agencies.

Rutledge also said that if the Circuit Court authorizes the Madison County treasurer to place personal property taxes in escrow pending a U. S. Supreme Court ruling on the constitutionality of the tax, the taxing bodies will be in a financial squeeze and the city will receive about $500,000 less than otherwise.

He added that if the high court rules in favor of the taxpayer, the loss of the $500,000 will be permanent and the city will be in serious financial straits.

Wages, Open Burning Reviewed by Aldermen

By MARION BARTOSIAK

Press-Record Staff Writer

Proposed salary increases for city employees, a sewer billing contract and open burning at homes led to extensive discussions at a meeting of the Granite City Council Monday night.

A resolution to grant $25 monthly pay hikes to three employees in the office of the city clerk and to the secretary of the mayor was presented by Fifth Ward Alderman Steve Basarich, finance committee chairman, on the recommendation of Robert Stevens, city clerk. Mayor Donald Partney is hospitalized.

The raise would put their salaries on a parity with other city salaries before across-the-board pay increases, now under negotiation, take effect. Basarich said.

Fourth Ward Alderman E. E. Robertson, serving as mayor pro tem, said there was no request for an increase from the employee business agent. Basarich immediately objected, remarking that he had tried to turn the recommendation over to the negotiations committee. The committee, he said, refused to handle it.

Hamper Negotiations

Seventh Ward Alderman Tom Boker, a member of the negotiations committee, vowed the resolution would hamper the work of his group, which is completing agreements with the unions involved.

A motion to concur with the recommendation and authorize an ordinance to budget the necessary money brought response from Third Ward Alderman Clyde Boyd, who insisted that it go to the negotiations committee.

Basarich then withdrew his motion and the recommendation was referred to Boker's committee.

Sewer Billing

A contract was let to the First Granite City National Bank to handle sewer billing at a cost of 11 cents a bill, despite strong objections by Eighth Ward Alderman Emerald Dawes.

Dawes said AAA Service had submitted a bid of 10 cents and should receive the contract.

Basarich maintained that AAA would cost 17 or 18 cents, and City Treasurer Paul Rutledge noted that the AAA bid was 10 cents plus cost of materials on a three-year contract. The city could cancel its contract with the bank on nine days' notice, it was pointed out. Rutledge explained that it would have no immediate effect on the number of employees, but that the number of city workers involved with the

Aid Non-Public Schools

Six legislative bills appropriating $30 million for private and parochial schools moved through the Illinois House Tuesday and were sent to the governor for his signature.

Similar measures had gone through the state legislature twice previously but were knocked out in tests in the Illinois Supreme Court.

In the first, the high court ruled that an amendatory veto by the governor was unconstitutional, stating that the governor exceeded his veto power in making changes in the bills.

The current appropriation measures are about the same as those voided by the court. The bills provide $20½ million for textbooks and other services to parents of private school pupils and $4½ million in grants to the state for $5 million is earmarked for development of new programs through the state public aid private school efforts.

The legislation cleared the State Senate on May 23.

The question of constitutional legality remains on the interpretation of separation of church and state, but some legislators contend that the public school system would face a major space and financial crisis if parochial schools were closed because of lack of financial support and teaching personnel.

Others maintain that the declining birthrate lessens the problem.

Supporters of the bills maintain that the current proposed method has not been tested in the courts. Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie had recommended the current legislation and is expected to sign the bills.

The financial-teacher problem has had an impact here.

St. Mark's and St. Mary's Schools in Venice and Madison have been closed but have consolidated. Consolidation of St. Joseph's and Sacred Heart Schools in Granite City was under consideration this spring.

The merger of the two Granite City schools was deemed inadvisable at this time by the office of the Springfield Catholic Diocesan superintendent of schools, following meetings of parents and leaders of the two parishes involved.

Illinois Air Quality Shows Improvement

Illinois air quality improved statewide in 1971 over the previous year, the state Environmental Protection Agency announced today.

Specific gains were measured in reduction of air pollution in the Chicago, Peoria and East St. Louis areas. Dr. John J. Roberts, manager of the EPA's Division of Air Pollution Control, said.

The conclusions are based on a summary of the 1971 annual report on air quality. The full report will be available for distribution in July.

Granite City Site One rose from a 1970 geometric mean of 134 to 146 in 1971. Site Three here decreased from 134 to 170.

No. 2 in Polls, Gov. Ogilvie To Try Harder, Go on Offense

By KEN WATSON

Copley News Service

Springfield—There's been a quiet shift in the campaign strategy of Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie.

He's going on the offensive. In a switch from the traditional political format whereby an incumbent governor runs on his record and the challenger attempts to tear it down, Ogilvie is taking the fight to Democratic nominee Daniel Walker.

The Republican governor is charging that Walker—on the basis of his brief participation in state government, his pronouncements in the spring primary campaign, and his subsequent comments since March—openly discloses a lack of qualifications for the job.

Ogilvie's shift to a more aggressive campaign, it is known, was quietly suggested to him by some top aides and party strategists. Two major reasons have been cited:

1. A traditional campaign stressing the positive won't work in this unprecedented political year of 1972 when voters consistently display an "anti" mood.

Regional Report -- Recreation, Navigation, Housing News

(Illinois Metro East Industrial Development Corporation)

Six areas in this region were identified as potential regional recreation sites by the East-West Gateway Council in a preliminary inventory made for the Council's executive advisory committee.

Each site contains in excess of 300 acres and was evaluated from standpoints of access, natural or unique features, area needs, population and constraints to development. Areas selected include three in Monroe County, two in Madison County and one in St. Clair County.

The report says that this region possesses more unusual and scenic natural resources than most persons will give credit to, and suggests that measures be taken soon to make these areas available for public use.

In a second report, a need for nearly two to every three area communities to establish additional park and recreation areas was outlined.

The U. S. House Appropriations Committee approved a $30 million budget for six area flood control and navigation projects. The budget includes $18 million for construction on the Kaskaskia canal, $8 million for construction at the Chain of Rocks navigation locks, nearly $2 million for engineering and design at Allen Lock and Dam 26, $1.5 million for work on the Mississippi River and $250,000 for hillside drainage.

Southern Illinois National received approval from the U. S. Comptroller of the currency for its proposed move from East St. Louis to Fairview Heights.

Industrial Savings & Loan Association of East St. Louis and a proposed new affiliate of the First National Bank of Belleville also have applied for permission to establish offices in the growing community.

A potential delay in Fairview Heights area construction projects totaling $30 million has been forecast unless the Caseyville Township sewer system receives federal funds for a proposed $1.1 million sewer improvement program.

The township has requested a $500,000 federal grant to finance the project, which must begin by Aug. 31 in order to ion residential development. Projects which could be affected include the $26 million St. Clair Square Shopping Center, a $15 million shopping center to be developed by E. B. Jones & Associates, an $8 million residential development, a $3 million Ramada Inn and a $2 million Levitz Furniture Co. store and warehouse.

Aug. 1 has been set as the date for another public hearing on the location of a proposed second major St. Louis area airport.

The hearing, requested by the Missouri-St. Louis Airport Authority, will be held in St. Louis and conducted by the Federal Aviation Administration. This will be the ninth in a series of public hearings held on the issue.

The SIU Board of Trustees authorized development of construction plans for additional on-campus housing facilities at the local campus. New units are planned for a 30-acre tract located north of the existing Tower Lake complex and are expected to cost about $5.25 million.

Construction of Alton's first new indoor movie theater in 30 years is expected to begin immediately, on the Bellline. The theater complex is to include four theaters having a total seating capacity of 1,400 persons.

A unique use of commercial radio facilities is proposed by Station Wmry-fm. The station is attempting to raise $100,000 to start a "talking book" program which would benefit up to 18,000 blind and handicapped persons in the area.

Attends Mrs. Brokaw Services in Houston

Mrs. Lillie Brueggemann, 1312 Eighteenth St., returned home this week after attending funeral services in Houston, Tex., for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lois Brokaw, 47, of Houston.

Also attending the services were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brokaw, Jerry Brokaw, Raymond Brokaw and Mrs. Shirley Parmley, all of Granite City, and Richard Brokaw of Arlington Heights near Chicago.

Mrs. Brokaw died June 22 and the services were conducted June 24. She is survived by her husband, Gilbert Brokaw, a son, Kris Brokaw, and twin daughters, Melanie Sue and Meredith Gail, all at home, and her mother, Mrs. Forrester of Houston.

PONY SULKY STOLEN

Skaters Here Advance To Region Competition

Robyn Sue Johnson, 10, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ford Johnson, 2501 Lynch Ave., and Thomas Kevin Hansen, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Hansen, 3133 Willow Ave., won seven gold medals and five first places at the Illinois-Wisconsin roller skating meet held at the Stardust Skating Rink, 3847 Lake Drive.

Over 600 participants covering a two-state area registered for the speed skating competition, individual events and partner categories.

The two local youngsters won first place in the elementary dance, elementary international dance and juvenile figure, for which they received a plaque. Robyn also won a first place and gold medal for her single free-style.

They have qualified to enter the Great Lakes Regional meet to take place in Indianapolis, Ind., this weekend.

Both skaters are students of Carmen Dickerson and Robyn also takes instruction in single competition from Mike Nix. They have been skating as partners for the past 15 months and earned a second place at the 1971 state meet.

The young skating enthusiasts hope to enter the national meet to be held in Fort Worth, Tex., in August.

As a result of their performance, the two skaters also received the traveling trophy which has been in existence since 1947 and is held by the top winners.

Cindy Cagle, 14, a daughter of Mrs. Linette Cagle, 2427 Washington Ave., and her partner, Hal Rice, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herald Rice of Alton, were awarded third place in the sophomore pairs in free style during the state event. They also will enter the Indianapolis competition this weekend.

Dental School Gets $34,031 for Research

The School of Dental Medicine at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern has received a $34,031 grant from the Division of Dental Health of the National Institute of Health for training students to work with auxiliary personnel to increase productivity.

Dr. Ralph Knowles, director of the grant, said in the first year students will be taught the proper position at the chair, before they even begin to see patients. Knowles said good habits such as proper posture and sitting down while working will be stressed because they can lengthen a dentist's professional career.

Part of the grant money will be used to hire dental assistants to work with students on patients. Knowles said a dentist working properly with auxiliary personnel can keep his attention on his patient and increase productivity by 50%.

Knowles, chairman of the dental school's department of health management, said dental school faculty will be used to supervise students under terms of the grant.

Third Youth Arrested On Burglary Charges

Darrell L. Hoffstad, 17, of 2223 Delmar Ave., was arrested at 4:55 p.m. Monday at the Granite City police station on charges of burglary at the Valencia Tasty Cream Drive-in, 2041 Johnson Road, and at the Food City Market, 2669 Iowa St.

The burglaries occurred early Monday. Two other persons, David Miller, 20, of 2206 Lee Ave., and Jack Gallia, 20, of Rural Route One, were arrested at the scene of the Valencia burglary and were charged with burglary and possession of burglary tools.

Venice Man Is Victim Of Deceptive Practice

Lonnie Bugg, 1004 Logan St., Venice, told police Tuesday that he paid a man $15 for two car tires and the tires never were delivered.

Bugg said the cash was paid to the man June 13 and the tires were to be delivered at 9 p.m. that day. Bugg reported he saw the man again June 19 and asked for either the tires or the $15 back. The man again said he would deliver the tires at 9 p.m. but failed to appear.

Named to Honor Roll

Ronald Cunningham, son of the Rev. and Mrs. Sherman Cunningham, 2730 Buxton Ave., is named on the spring honor roll at Evans College, Springfield, Mo. His average was 3.294 out of a possible 4.0. A sophomore majoring in accounting, he is a graduate of Florissant, Mo., Hazelwood High School.

HUMANE TRUCK STRUCK

The Madison Humane Department truck, driven by Jack Cory, 1923 Harris St., Madison, was struck by the eastbound car of Charlene E. Voloski, 1810 Seventh St., Madison, at Edwardsville Road and McCambridge Avenue at 9:40 a.m. Tuesday, authorities said. The truck, which had halted, was damaged about its left front fender.

$150 IN TOOLS STOLEN

Theodore Byers, 2872 Iowa St., reported at 6:20 a.m. Wednesday that burglars pried two tool boxes from his pickup truck, parked in his driveway during the night, and took small hand tools and punches, a set of six wrenches and a set of half-inch drive sockets. Total value was $150.

Capital Bond Plan Costly, Lacks Adequate Advance Review, Sen. Vadalabene Says

Springfield — State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene, (D) Edwardsville, expressed disappointment at Senate passage of this week's Governor Ogilvie's proposed Capital Development Bond Fund Act.

Vadalabene said he refused to support the mammoth bond debt program because he favors a "pay as you go" approach to government spending and because the legislation "will force future generations to pay for today's irresponsible fiscal actions."

Sen. Vadalabene issued the following statement:

"Because of the power and influence this program will provide the governor, he is sure to reap many political dividends—from bonding companies, big contractors and other princes of high finance. In the process, he is enjoining the average citizen who is always called on to bear the cost of government finance."

"I do not feel our children should have to subsidize many years from now the political fortunes of today's leaders, who will not even be around then to be held accountable."

"Under terms of this regrettable legislation, the governor, his Bureau of the Budget and a new 'superboard' will have unbelievable authority to spend, spend, spend."

"This does injury to our traditional system of 'checks and balances' because neither the legislature nor the general public will be able to control this powerful triumvirate."

"Any homeowner or citizen who is responsible for preparing a family budget is aware that we must live within our means or end up in a precarious financial condition."

"Our present revenue bonding system is to be preferred because it allows us to finance only those projects whose needs have been demonstrated and then been subjected to reasonable responsible review."

"But the new, long-range program will enslave taxpayers for 20 to 40 years, in some cases for projects that will have disappeared by the time the massive programs are paid for."

"In adopting this program, we have in effect created a fiscal monster that is preferred and haunt this state for decades after the builders of this creature have long since departed."

"Such a massive bonding program is certain to necessitate a huge tax increase in the near future. The interest on these bonds will be so exorbitant that the state will be unable to pay it under our present revenue system."

"I am proud that I am on record as having vigorously opposed this bond development act."

"Future Illinois historians will exonerate those of us who had the foresight and fiscal integrity to vote the way we did."

"This irresponsible, bono-doggling, pork-barrel program could end up rivaling the wild Internal Improvements financial scheme of the 1890s that state government foisted on the Illinois taxpayers."

"That reckless bonding program caused the state to go bankrupt and kept it from fiscal solvency for several generations. And many of the financed projects were either never begun or were scrapped before they were completed," he concluded.

Believe It or Not, 4th of July to Be Observed on 4th

Copley News Service
Springfield — There seems to be some confusion among Illinoisians this year about when July Fourth, Independence Day, will be celebrated.

State officials point out that it will be observed on the first Tuesday in July, the day upon which July Fourth will normally fall on the calendar.

Some confusion has arisen because some of the holidays have been changed to Monday, July 3, but this is not true.

When the state law was passed changing some of the holiday observances to Monday, July Fourth, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day, Christmas and New Year's Day were not included in the changes.

These holidays are observed on the day upon which they fall on the calendar. Labor Day is always the first Monday of September and Thanksgiving Day the fourth Thursday of November.

The changes in some of the holiday observances were made by the Illinois General Assembly to coincide with changes made at the federal level. For instance, Washington's Birthday was moved to the third Monday of February. Memorial Day was changed to the last Monday of May.

Columbus Day was moved to the second Monday in October and Veteran's Day was changed to the third Monday of October.

In Illinois, observance of Abraham Lincoln's birthday has always been held. When the General Assembly changed the observance, this day was changed to the second Monday in February. But later the General Assembly passed another law which changed the observance back to the traditional day of February 12.

The General Assembly has now sent a bill to Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie seeking to change

Veteran's Day back to its former traditional day of Nov. 11. Sponsors of the legislation say the change has been sought by many veteran organizations.

So, state officials point out that if Ogilvie signs this bill into law, this holiday celebration will be changed in Illinois.

The officials also remind Illinoisians that July Fourth will be first Tuesday of July — July Fourth.

Proclamation

Bells and carillons will ring throughout Illinois at 1 p.m. Tuesday, July 4, in commemoration of our nation's Declaration of Independence.

All veterans' organizations in the state, which include about 1,700,000 members in 2,300 posts, are cooperating in the promotion and are being joined by civic, clergy and other groups.

Ring of the bells across this prairie land should thrill and inspire all of us who benefit so greatly from the action of our founding fathers nearly two centuries ago.

Words of that Declaration, written by 33-year-old Thomas Jefferson in his second floor lodgings in Philadelphia, quickly became the symbol of new hope among oppressed throughout the world.

Its recognition of a Supreme Being — and of the inalienable rights of man that must be secured by a just government — empowered by the governed — make the document as viable today as when it was written.

Its affirmation of the equality and dignity of men makes our Declaration of Independence a beacon of representative democracy for the dispossessed of every land.

Therefore, I, Donald Partney, mayor of the City of Granite City, proclaim July 4, 1972, Bells of Independence Day in Granite City.

I urge all citizens to participate in observances of the day and to be vigilant at all times to protect the freedom we have inherited.

DONALD PARTNEY

DeMolays Attend District Meeting

DeMolays from James Stuart Chapter attended a district meeting at the Wood River Masonic Temple Tuesday night.

Paul Boyer, past master councilor of the local chapter, presided as district master councilor. On an officer election, John Creswell of Wood River was named district master councilor to be installed at the state convocation to be held on the campus of Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Aug. 10-13.

Others from here were Hiram B. Ables, John Brooks, Phil Mull, A. H. "Tim" Noud, Dewey Obermeier, Jim Pomeroy and Tony Welch, accompanied by advisor Charles A. Meyer.

Area Women Pilots in Powder Puff Classic

By VALERIE EVENEDEN
Press-Record Staff Writer
"From Sea to Shining Sea" is the slogan of the 26th annual Powder Puff Derby to be flaged off from San Carlos Airport on San Francisco Bay, Calif., on Friday, July 7. To qualify in the contest, pilots of the 106 planes entered must buzz the finish line at the Robert J. Miller Airport at Toms River, N. J., by sundown July 10.

Among the women pilots covering the 2,616-mile coast-to-coast course will be two area residents — Mrs. Joseph (Ethel "Tex") Wickenhauser of Godfrey and Mrs. Wendell (Jan) Durr of Edwardsville — who will compete as a team.

Mrs. Wickenhauser, who is well-known to local business and professional women, will be pilot, with Mrs. Durr as co-pilot. The team is one of 20 crews making their debut in the Powder Puff Derby this year.

Women Pilots Only
The race is open to all qualified women pilots flying eligible stock model aircraft, single or multi-engine of 145 to 450 horsepower manufactured within the last 10 years.

Winners are determined on a published handicap basis for each make and model of aircraft, Mrs. Durr explained. Therefore, winners cannot be known until all planes have crossed the finish line in New Jersey.

Contestants are scored according to their ground speed in relation to their handicaps. This is calculated by subtracting the par speed from the average ground speed.

At each stop aircraft are timed as they fly by a timing line. Again when they start their roll on the take-off runway, time at the designated stops does not count against the score, it was explained.

"Ninety-Nines"
"Par speed" is determined according to the b.p.s.t. figures available from airplane manufacturers' data, supplemented by test runs under the direction of a board of directors.

The board is composed of nine women, all members of the Ninety-Nines, Inc., an organization of licensed women pilots which endorses the "All Woman Transcontinental Air Race," better known as the Powder Puff Derby.

Mrs. Wickenhauser noted that the "derby" is a carefully planned event with rules and regulations so well organized and up-to-date yearly that the operating procedures are requested and used to conduct many other air races throughout the world.

The flying discipline which the race demands contributes to safety as well as to winning, she said. Each year a different transcontinental route is chosen with intermediate stops.

Route Preflow
The route is preflowed by officials, once as a "trail blazing team," again by a "final route survey team" and by an official.

POWDER PUFF ENTRANTS Mrs. 'Tex' Wickenhauser, pilot, (right) and co-pilot, Mrs. Jan Durr, in the former's Piper Cherokee 180, prepare for the 'All Woman Transcontinental Air Race.' The two area women will compete in the 26th annual air classic starting from San Carlos Airport, Calif., July 7.

Eight enroute stops are officially designated for refueling and remaining overnight. Towers will be equipped with Simplex Time Stamps to record each arrival.

The winning pilot of each race has her name inscribed on the permanent Powder Puff Derby Trophy at Smithsonian Institute. Trophies plus cash prizes with $12,500 to the top 10 places, $5,000 of it to the winner, are awarded.

A total of 43 cash awards is made possible through General Race Fund sponsors, it was noted. These include special prize monies for specific categories and "leg" prizes, the latter for high point-to-point scores based solely on computed scores and superiority of performance.

6 Fly-By Points
Six fly-by positions—mandatory enroute — are located at Winnemucca, Nev., Ogden, Utah, Sioux City, Iowa, Moline, Ill., Fort Wayne, Ind., and Lakeland, Fla.

Two additional airports at Rock Springs, Wyo., and Scottsbluff, Neb., also are designated, but fly-bys are optional, Mrs. Durr explained. Refueling and remaining overnight is permissible at any or all stops, but all racers must land at Moline and Lakeland.

Under the direction of the official starter, George Griffith of Costa Mesa, Calif., the women pilots will roll off the runway at San Carlos Airport at 20 to 30 second intervals next Friday. The aerial extravaganza is viewed by hundreds of spectators each year.

Mountains to Cross
In the racers' 2,616-mile coast-to-coast dash to a glowing orange finish line at Toms River, N. J., they will cross the Rocky Mountains, the Continental Divide, the Great Plains and the Allegheny Mountains. Arrival deadline at the terminus is 6 p.m. July 10.

As part of this year's transcontinental race, the participants will land at Moline, Ill., to salute the Quad-City Airport which is celebrating its 50th anniversary.

The commercial jet-port serves the communities of Des Moines and Bettendorf in Iowa and Rock Island, Moline and East Moline in Illinois, plus six other smaller communities. Recently, the airport operators announced plans to develop adjacent property into commercial aviation and aviation-related industrial sites.

Flying Gift Plane
Mrs. Wickenhauser will pilot a Piper Cherokee 180 in the race, a gift she received on her 40th birthday. She holds a commercial pilot's license, with 753 flying hours, and does charter flying.

A grandmother, Mrs. Wickenhauser works with her husband in the real estate and insurance business in Godfrey. She is an officer of the Toastmasters International and presently serves as public relations chairman of the group's Ozark Region, a five-state area.

She also is an official in the St. Louis Chapter Ninety-Nines, the international organization of women pilots, and is active in church, school and civic affairs. The Durr's have three daughters, all of whom enjoy flying. Both husband and wife are pilots and own a single-engine Cessna 170.

Both Durs Are Pilots
Her co-pilot, also an avid flyer, received a private license in July 1971 and is working toward a commercial pilot's license. She has 175 flying hours logged.

The Durr's have three daughters, all of whom enjoy flying. Both husband and wife are pilots and own a single-engine Cessna 170.

Teachers Attend SIU Workshop
A "Creative Dramatics Workshop" under way on the campus of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus is designed to provide children "with activities which relate to their self-growth and self-identity," according to Dr. Pat Gay, director of the workshop.

The workshop, which started three weeks ago, is sponsored by the Speech and Theatre Department of the university for classroom teachers.

For the 20th year, an Amateur Radio Network will cover the entire race route. The service supplements the standard communications offered by the Federal Aviation Administration. Vital weather data and forecasting services needed for route planning will be provided by the U. S. Weather Bureau.

Banquets Planned
A "Take-Off" banquet is planned Wednesday evening at the Villa Hotel in San Mateo, Calif., and an awards banquet is set for Wednesday, July 12 at the Regency-Irvington Hotel at Lakewood, N. J.

The Golden West and Garden State chapters of the Ninety-Nines, Inc., will serve as hosts at the gala functions.

Mrs. Wickenhauser and her co-pilot will leave this weekend for California. All aircraft are required to be impounded by 5 p.m. Monday at the San Carlos Airport.

Strict aircraft inspection tests and briefings on routes, engines and air safety are required prior to the moment the start's gun signals that the 26th annual Powder Puff Derby is actually under way.

The colorful sky birds then fire their throttles and roar off the runway, turning their backs on the Pacific Ocean to gain the altitude necessary to cross the magnificent Sierras and on to their first fly-by point at Winnemucca, Nev.

Bethel 43 Installs Guardians
Miss Becky Graham, honored queen of Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, presided at her first official meeting Tuesday night at the Masonic Temple.

The meeting opened with the pledge of allegiance and the national anthem, followed by the Lord's Prayer led by Chaplain Vicki Ferguson.

Exalted and introduced were past honored queens, Shirley Brokaw, Mickey Fritz and Marian Sullivan.

After the business meeting, the birthdays of members were observed and a social hour took place in the dining room.

Ceramic Show At SIU-SW
A one-man show featuring the ceramic sculpture of Buford Greer Farris will open Saturday in the Fine Arts Gallery of the Communications Building at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern campus.

Farris is a member of the art faculty at SIU-Carbondale, where he recently earned a master of fine arts degree, specializing in ceramics and glass. He has exhibited widely in Illinois and throughout the country.

The show, open to the public at no cost, will run through July 25.

Miss Travis, a graduate of Granite City High School, is employed in the engineering department of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co.

Her fiancé who attended SIU-SW, also is a graduate of Granite City High School. Sgt. Singleton presently is stationed in Kinneboe AFB, Mich.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a Sept. 30 wedding at the Briarcliff Pentecostal Church.

Civic Society Plans Projects
Mrs. Dorothy Simpson, 3 Victoria Drive, was hostess to members of the Civic Action Progress Party Society (CAPPS) Tuesday evening. Plans for future fund raising projects were discussed.

Mrs. Shirley King reported on a June 17 barbecue at Gaslight Plaza Shopping Center and plans were completed for a dance on July 15 at the Croston Hall in Madison.

Mrs. Elsie Mariette, dance chairman, announced guest entertainers will include Barbara Fairchild and Nick Nixon, both recording stars, and Rod Brown of St. Clair County.

Tickets, costing $6 per person, are available at the Pizza Pit at Gaslight Shopping Center or from any member of the organization.

Tentative plans were made for a rummage sale in August and donations are now being accepted at the home of Mrs. Simpson.

Three new members introduced were Mrs. Pat Noler, Mrs. Joyce Cole and Mrs. Barbara Rea.

ills would diminish through attrition. He said a couple of such employees are planning to retire.

The council voted 10-2 in favor of the bank, with Dawes and Sixth Ward Alderman Paul Schuler dissenting.

Barasich vehemently charged that it was unethical for Dawes to confer with AAA on the bids after they had been received, but Dawes disagreed.

Second Ward Alderman Frank Greenwald, chairman of the planning and zoning committee, called for a crackdown on residents burning trash in their yards, to impress on the public that such burning is against city and state laws.

His comment came after the sanitation committee asked for a call for bids to pick up burnable household trash.

Alderman Burns Trash Barasich and Third Ward Alderman Roy Poulos took opposite views, saying that the state had imposed air pollution controls without providing means or methods of complying. Barasich said he burns trash.

Baker said he personally will see that trash burning violators are placed under arrest.

Greenwald questioned the legality of rummage sales being conducted in most parts of the city, and asked Police Chief Ronald Vizez if police are taking any action.

The reply was that police are having advertising signs removed from city property and placed on private property.

Pontoon Load Limit Noting that sections of Pontoon Road are in disrepair, Dawes moved that a two-ton limit be applied to eliminate trucks from moving over that road. He said this would halt rumblings of the ground and possible damage to homes.

Dawes asked that trucks be banned until repairs are made.

The council agreed to have an ordinance drawn after Robertson commented that a contract has been entered to repair Pontoon Road.

In other business, the council:

Approved a Poulos motion to budget $2,000 to the alley, though Lionel Portell, street superintendent, advised the aldermen that motor fuel tax funds would be unavailable for the purpose.

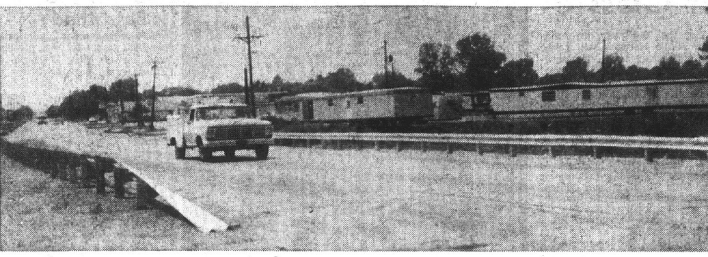

Received notice of an intent to file suit for $20,000 in each of two counts against the city and James Stuart for Raymond L. Smith Jr., 15. The complaint alleges the Smith youth was attacked and injured by a dog at 3001 E. 23rd St. on May 15, 1971.

Received a copy of a notice of violation from Paul Hawkins, Madison County environmental control officer, to Paul Brewer, 1811 Spring Ave., that he is discharging sewage into open ditches and has 30 days to correct the violation.

The sewage was said to be coming from an overflowing cesspool and Brewer expects to be annexed into the city soon and obtain sewer service. The notice was referred to the city attorney.

Approved a request by the American Legion Auxiliary that all churches ring their bells at noon on July 4.

Absent from the meeting were Fifth Ward Alderman Walter Noren and First Ward Alderman William Dallas.

Boy Scout Camp Will Start 3rd Record Week

Camp Sunnen operated by the Cahokia Mound Council, B.S.A., will begin its third week of operation with 141 scouts, 18 volunteer leaders and 16 junior leaders attending.

This will bring the three-week total of scouts in camp to 492, which is 68% of the 724 attending during the entire 1971 season.

The total estimated camp attendance for this season will be over 1,200, according to Robert Blew of Collinsville, council camping chairman.

Blew said the reason for the increase is that approximately 250 scouts from the Piasa Bird Council, which includes the northern part of Madison County, will be attending. Also, there is a high number of local scouts who attended last year and are returning.

Order of the Arrow camp promotion teams have visited all the council troops to help persuade new scouts to attend.

Camp Sunnen is located in the heart of the Clark National Forest near Potosi, Mo.

Scouts and leaders reporting for the third week of camp beginning at 2 p.m. Sunday from the Union (Quad-City) District are:

Troop 1, Venice Lions Club, Jack Tolliver, leader, and Jack Tolliver, Bill Welch, Robert McKinney, Tim Ponce, Dan Tolliver, Cliff Mathis, Robert Schmidt, John Miller, Roy Wise and Bob Dixon.

Troop 8, First United Presbyterian Church, Bob Burns, leader, and Don Briggs, David Kaempf, Ron Briggs, Kerry Brawley, Tim Cavins, Bob Kelly, David Fanning, Bruce Roberts, James DeDourcy, Michael Buckingham, Robert DeDourcy and Joe Buckingham.

county maps only as township roads. The board took the request under study.

The board approved a request by Edgar Patrick, township tax collector, for an advance of $500 to pay for postage for tax bills which now are being mailed to residents.

Patrick said taxes will be collected by mail from July 1 to July 28 and at the First Granite City National Bank from July 10 to July 28.

He said his office will be located at 4070 Gaslight Walk, Pontoon Beach, and answers to questions concerning taxes may be obtained by telephoning 931-1238.

An ordinance prohibiting parking on the south side of Arnold Drive was tabled on third reading.

At the last meeting, several residents of the area indicated disapproval of the plan and said that when a petition for improvements was signed by residents, most did not realize that a request to halt parking on the south side of the street was included.

Mrs. Elsie Canner was hostess to the Fourth Monday Canasta Club in her home, 643 Lincoln Ave., Monday evening.

A turkey dinner with all the trimmings was served by the hostess to Mesdames Rose Ritz of Collinsville, Lenna Williams, Marge Purcell, Bea Schaffner, Lorene Morris, Ruth Canner and Mabel McGee.

Canasta filled the remainder of the evening, with prizes awarded. Mrs. Purcell will be the July hostess in her home, 1638 Sixth St.

PINOCHLE GATHERING

Twilight Pinochle members met in the home of Mrs. Lucille Broyles, 2030 McCasland Ave., Monday evening. The hostess served a delectable repast upon arrival of the members, after which pinochle was played.

Mrs. Nadine Meehan was a substitute player. Prizes were awarded to Mesdames Sandra Bray, Betty Meyer, Marie Miller and Mary Ann Svezia. Others playing were the guest and Karen Broyles, Sherri Whaley and Lucille Broyles.

TAKEN TO HOSPITAL

A Pontoon Beach area woman was taken by ambulance to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:45 a.m. yesterday after apparently having ingested 15 pills.

4th July

along the midway to greet youthful fair-goers.

A dance directed toward teenage patrons will take place at the Wilson Park ice rink pavilion from 7:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Saturday, spotlighting the Carma music group, led by Chris Hamilton.

Music lovers of all ages may enjoy listening to the Rich Stolz Band, which will perform in concert from 2 to 4 p.m. Sunday at the rink.

The latter band's appearance here has been arranged through Local 717, American Federation of Musicians, and the Music Performance Trust Fund. Wilson Park's softball field will be the location of the women's annual Fourth of July softball tournament, while the men's tournament will be staged at Worthen Park.

Round-robin games in both divisions are scheduled from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Saturday and from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m. Sunday. The men's competition will continue Monday from 1 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Worthen Park and the women's series from 8 p.m. to 11 p.m. at Wilson Park.

Final matches will take place at the same locations from 2 p.m. to 8 p.m. Tuesday.

An "oldtimers" fast pitch softball game is planned at Wilson Park at 7 p.m. Monday.

Among the spectacular fireworks displays to be viewed on the Fourth of July this year are:

Temple of Isis, Crystal Garden, Tower of Jewels, Dred of Demons, Sheba's Brooch, Musical Wheel, Whirling Wonders, Fire Wheel, Double Fountain of Youth, American Flag, Niagara Falls, Road Runner and Hokey Wolf, Smile Button, Elephant and Donkey on Teeter Totter, Space Capsule to the Moon and the grand finale, featuring 120 connected fireworks.

Twenty-four announcer bombs will herald the start of the exhibition.

A total of 285 items of fireworks will be included in the show, costing about $1,443, according to Park Superintendent Harold Brown.

Local organizations sponsoring booths at the celebration will be Parents Without Partners (corn dogs); Loyal Order of Moose Chapter 272 (lemonade shakes); Boy Scout Troop 19 (pizzas).

Cub Pack 19 (snow-cones); Granite City Amateur Hockey Association (soda-Pepsi Cola); Cub Pack Four (fruit juices); Mexican Honorary Commission (Mexican food dishes); Cub Pack Seven (soda-7-Up).

Association for the Protection of Animals (ice cream); Boosters of the Fighting Warriors (fish-shrimp); Roca Young Men's Club (cotton candy).

Granite City Band Parents (pop corn); Mercer's softball team (lemonade); St. Elizabeth Hospital Nurses Association (hot dog-cakes).

Granite City Jaycees (watermelon stand); Granite City Society for Crippled Children (grab bags); and Granite City Police Department—(dunking booth).

Fred Schuerbaum, 65, Depot Retiree, Dies

Fred Schuerbaum, 65, of 28 St. Rose Drive, Collinsville, a retired employee of the Granite City Army Installation (former Army Depot), was pronounced dead upon arrival at St. Elizabeth Hospital at 6:20 a.m. Wednesday. He had been under a doctor's care.

He was born in Maryville and was employed at the Northtown Laundry in Collinsville. He was a member of the Meadow Heights Baptist Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Marie Manning Schuerbaum; three stepchildren, David Manning of Collinsville, Daniel Manning of Dana Point, Calif., and Mrs. David (Martha) Newberry of Granite City; two brothers, Walter and William Schuerbaum both of Collinsville; one sister, Mrs. Cletus (Florence) Krupp of Belleville; and one grandchild.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

$37,000 Land Purchase to Move Venice Street and Intersection

The Venice City Council on Tuesday night approved a purchase of a home, a service station and about a half-acre of land at Main Street and Bremen Avenue in Venice at a cost of $37,000 for part of the Broadway and Bremen Avenue relocation project.

The property is to be purchased from Hugh Hairston, 901 Main St., Venice, and will be used to relocate Bremen Avenue in Venice at a cost of $37,000 for part of the Broadway and Bremen Avenue relocation project.

Action was deferred on a proposed contract with the Shepherd, Morgan & Schaub engineering firm for preparation of an environmental impact statement in conjunction with the proposed street relocations. The councilmen indicated they wished to have several points answered before approving the contract.

The council approved an agreement with Virgil Dugger, architect, to design remodeling work and improvements at the Venice City Hall.

The agreement calls for a $1,000 lump sum payment for measurements and drawings and fees totaling 7.5% of the total cost of the finished project. The council also agreed to pay $1,318 to Tom Skerle, contractor, as partial payment for a completed $1,464 project of improving entrances to alleys between Third and Fourth streets.

Permission was granted to the Big Wheel Motorcycle Club of Brooklyn to conduct a parade at noon Saturday for sickle cell anemia funds.

A transfer of $43,000 from the working cash fund to the general city fund was approved to help meet obligations. The money is to be returned to the working cash fund when taxes are available in the general fund.

A petition from several North Venice residents requesting the demolition of a burned-out building at 1100 Calhoun St. was read. Demolition work has been started on the building, the council was told.

The annual audit report of the Venice police pension fund for the year ending in July 1971 was presented to the council.

The report suggested that a portion of the pension funds invested in the First National Bank in Madison be deposited in other institutions, as the amount has exceeded the limit insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The auditors indicated that although the excess funds were protected by a pledge of U. S. government bonds, depositing of all the funds in one bank is against the intent of the law.

The report showed income of $35,445 in the fund during the fiscal year, with disbursements of $31,058. The balance was $25,785 at the end of the fiscal year, it was reported.

In other action the council noted general municipal monthly receipts totaling $35,191 and approved disbursements of $35,190.

Buehler Elected as Eagles State Trustee

Carl Buehler, 2600 Madison Ave., was elected as a trustee of the Illinois State Eagles at the annual state Eagles convention which concluded this week in Chicago.

His appointment occurred after his wife, Mrs. Angie Buehler, was named to the same post of the state Eagles Ladies Auxiliary. It is the first time in the history of the Eagles in Illinois that a man and wife have held the same post.

Other Granite City delegates to the convention included Jesse Hadley, George Mathenia, president, and Robert Stanton, past president. All were accompanied by their wives. The next state convention will be held in Lincoln.

The Granite City Eagles Auxiliary ritual team of Aerle 1126 returned home champions again from state competition held in Chicago over the weekend in the ritual team defeated all state entries to retain its title.

Mrs. Helen Frazier was a name outstanding vice-president of the team. For achieving this honor, she will preside over installation ceremonies in December next year.

Mrs. Buehler, membership chairman of the local auxiliary, received double honors at the convention. She was presented with a trophy for her efforts in tripling membership as well as being elected one of the state trustees.

Members of the ritual team are Mrs. Nancy Mullins, president, Mrs. Beverly Sponeaman, junior past president, Mrs. Frazier, vice-president, Mrs. Dolores Sanders, chaplain, Mrs. Judy Mills, conductor, and Mrs. Marge Hall, team captain.

Also attending were Mrs. Frances Steinman, past state president, Mrs. Brenda Richer, president of the local auxiliary, and Mrs. Florida Batson, Mrs. Vera Hornyak, Mrs. Stella Miller and Mrs. Juanita Blevins.

Three Boys Treated For Venous Injuries

Three youths were injured as groups of boys fought three times in Venice Tuesday night. Police saw juvenile boys gathered around a car in Lee Park at 8:15 p.m. and when they investigated, they found that two boys in the auto had been beaten.

Jessie Woolfolk, 17, and Rodney Webster, 17, both of Brooklyn were bleeding when officers arrived. Webster was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for a cut to the right eyebrow. Woolfolk, who said he had been struck on the head with a stick, declined treatment.

Police took into custody four Venice boys, one age 13 and the others 15 years old. They were questioned and released. At 9:35 p.m. Tuesday, Venice and Madison policemen were called to the 700 block of Webster Street, where a woman reported three or four boys in a white car had been shooting with handguns at 15 or 20 other boys on the street. The youths had on foot, chased by the car, she related.

Venice police later were informed that several boys in a white car stopped Carrie Murphy, 13, of 1010 College St., Venice, in an alley between Douglas and Calhoun Streets in Venice and beat him.

The Murphy boy was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital, where he was treated for a hematoma to the top of the head and swelling to the right upper arm. He was released.

Deadline for Truck Licenses Postponed

Secretary of State John W. Lewis this week announced an extension until midnight Saturday, July 15, of the deadline for displaying 1972-73 license plates on trucks and other second division vehicles licensed on a fiscal-year basis.

Lewis pointed out that no assurance can be given that plates will be delivered in time for the deadline on applications received by mail. He emphasized that July 15 is the deadline for having the plates mounted on the vehicles, not merely applied for.

Gov. Ogilvie

Walker has not yet developed attention-catching issues and his constant attacking of Ogilvie on the income tax is beginning to tire some voters.

So far, Ogilvie has enjoyed success in shooting down Walker charges and proposals on such basic matters as law enforcement, prison reform, welfare and education.

This counter-attack will be stepped up to stress the theme that Walker "doesn't know what he is talking about."

Attacks on Walker are certain to become more personal, not only from Ogilvie himself but other Republican campaigners. An effort will be made to exploit obvious splits among the Democratic Illinois leadership.

Walker's well-known differences with Mayor Richard J. Daley over the cause and blame for the 1968 Democratic National Convention rioting at Chicago are certain to be widely circulated.

Some recent polls have shown a comeback trend for Ogilvie, reflecting the new strategy.

There is a growing feeling beneath the Statehouse Dome that the governor's race might be close, after all, despite polls showing a big edge for Walker.

Legate Hall of Fame Plaque To Be Presented on Monday

The Illinois State Amateur Softball Association Hall of Fame Committee has inducted 12 players and one commissioner into the Hall of Fame for 1972.

The late Max Legate of Granite City is the second local softball player to be inducted in the Illinois State ASA Hall of Fame. In 1971, the late Claude "Junior" Poole was inducted.

The ceremony will be held Monday, July 3, at 7 p.m. at Wilson Park before the "old timers" fast pitch game.

Harold E. Brown, regional Amateur Softball Association commissioner, will present the Hall of Fame plaque to Mrs. Juanita Legate and three of her children, Karen, 18, Alan, 11, and Sheila, eight.

Legate's oldest son, Bill, will be unable to attend as he is serving with the armed forces in Germany.

Local residents remember Max Legate as one of the area's outstanding fast pitch softball pitchers.

In recent years, the trend has been toward slow pitch competition. But many Quad-Cityans still recall with awe Mr. Legate's blazing pitches and his many shutouts and no-hitters.

Navy Service
He started his softball career while playing in the Park District Boys' League. From 1942 to 1946, he was in the Navy for World War II service.

In 1946, Max Legate pitched for the Granite City Merchants and in 1947 he pitched for Trantler's softball team, which finished third in the state tournament. He also pitched for the Moose softball team that finished third at the state contest.

In 1947, he pitched for the Zenthoefer Fur team in St. Louis when it was the St. Louis Cardinals' farm team.

champion. In 1948, he pitched for the Amvets softball team of Granite City.

In February 1949, Max and Juanita were married and spent the next seven years in Racine, Wis., where he pitched in the National Fastball League for the Metal Parts Team of Racine.

World Tournament
He pitched for the Coffee Pot softball team of Baltimore, Md., in 1955 when it gained third place in the World Softball Tournament.

The Legates returned to Granite City in 1956 and the last team that he pitched for was the Granite City Park District team.

"Not only was he a great softball pitcher but he also was one of the area's outstanding bowlers, as he spent 14 years with the Bowling Bowling Lanes of Granite City," Park Supt. Brown noted today.

In 1969, Mr. Legate was voted into the St. Louis Metro ASA Hall of fame.

Holiday Softball Tournaments To Open Saturday at Parks

The Granite City Park District will host two softball tournaments over the holiday weekend.

A men's tournament will begin 1 p.m. Saturday at Worthen Park and a women's tournament will start at 1 p.m. Sunday at Wilson Park. The tournaments will end on the Fourth of July with final games at Wilson Park.

Worthen Park will see 23 men's teams starting with seven ball games Saturday. Paired are:

Hagop's vs. Mercer, GC Firefighters vs. AAA Bookkeeping, Jacobson's vs. L & W Movers, Umberhine's vs. Andria's, Merchants vs. Nameoki Presbyterians, Sammy's vs. Char-Trantler's, Scotty's vs. Mobil and Fina.

The men's tournament will continue with a full schedule on Sunday and Monday.

The semi-final games will be played at Worthen on Tuesday at 1 and 3 p.m. The men then will move to Wilson Park for championship games at 6 p.m.

The opening game of the women's tournament at Wilson Park Sunday will see 4th Street Tavern vs. Mercer, 2 GC Rebels vs. Petrillo Produce, Sammy's A vs. Bill's Auto Body, Clean Craft vs. winner of opening game; Sammy's AA vs. winner of 2 p.m. game; Kenucky Fried Chicken vs. Apple Valley.

The women's tournament will play semi-finals at 8 and 9 p.m. on Monday with the championship game at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Russian Clubs Sports Tourney

The national summer sports tournament of the Federated Russian Orthodox Clubs will be held in the area this weekend. The Madison "R" Club of the Nativity of Virgin Mary Church in Madison will be the host club. Registration and a welcoming party will take place Friday evening at the Sunset Hill Holiday Inn. Golfing on Saturday will be at Belk Memorial Park in Wood River, followed by a picnic at the Shell Oil picnic grounds. Table tennis, horse shoes, bocce ball, tetherball and softball will be other activities of the weekend.

H's Eminence, Archbishop John of Chicago and Minneapolis, will serve Divine Liturgy on Sunday at the Nativity of Virgin Mary Church with the Rev. Vladimir Lecko of the host parish.

An award banquet will follow the church service. Friday Archbishop John and Edward Onisko, president of the Federated Russian Orthodox Clubs, as guest speakers.

Chandler Joins Ft. Scott Team

Ed Chandler, former Madison High School football star, has accepted a scholarship to Ft. Scott (Kan.) Junior College, according to Al Vonder Haar, MHS athletic director.

Ft. Scott has had one of the top four junior college grid teams for the past four years. Last season the only game it lost was the National Junior College championship game after having been national champs in 1970.

Vonder Haar, a 1961-62 teammate of Ft. Scott Coach Walter Olinger at Missouri State University, introduced Chandler to Olinger.

Inter-City All-Star Classic Carded for July 4 at Troy

The Inter-City Baseball League will hold its annual All-Star game at 2 p.m. July 4 on the Moonlight diamond near Troy.

Managers and coaches have selected players for the Red and Blue Division teams.

Last year's action will be the Blues' pitter off a one-sided victory in blasting the Reds 13-3. In that game Mercer players accounted for eight of the 13 Blue runs as Jim Greenwald hit a four batter with two men on and Bill Parks tagged three hits and an RBI. Greenwald will be in the outfield in this year's game.

The Red Division will be fielding some big bats beginning with Dave Clark of Highland-Pierion at first base. He is leading both divisions with a .458 batting average.

Backing up Clark will be Don Sonnenberg of Troy, the league No. 2 hitter swinging a .455 average. Another big gun at the plate is Terry Vartanian of Mollitor who sports a .417 average.

Other Top Sluggers
If the 400 hitters aren't bad news enough the Reds will also be fielding Bruce Blumer of Highland-Pierion, third base, .360; plus Buck Schurz, shortstop, .343; Jerry Pilcher, outfield, .333; and Bob Seminsin, first baseman, .333, all from Troy.

The Blue Division has the third top hitter in the league as Dave Hays, Glen Carbon, catcher, is sporting a .428 average. His teammate, John Godard, an outfielder, is hitting .325.

To cool the bats of the Reds will be the top pitcher of the league, Larry Johnson of Glen Carbon, who should be on the mound for the Blues.

Of hurlers that have pitched 20 or more innings, Johnson has worked 38.2 innings, allowing 19 earned runs, with 50 strike outs, for an earned run average of 2.32.

The Blues also have a good hurler in Pat Harris from Mercer who is rated No. 4 on the mound in the league. Harris has pitched 23.2 innings, allowed eight earned runs, fanned 20, has a 1-0 record with an earned run average of 3.04.

Mercer Squad
Taking the field for the Blues from Mercer will be Bill Campbell, catcher; Larry Corey, first base; Bob Scott, third base or outfield; Greenwald, Don Harris in, outfield; and Harris, pitch.

St. Mary's Boosters will furnish the Blues with John Piechowski, pitcher; Jim Cromer, first base; Jay Greer, shortstop; Al Bragan, catch; Ron Davis, third base; and Larry Gerzies, outfield.

Glen Carbon representatives on the Blues team are Don Hamilton, John Godard, Maurice Sanderson all in the outfield; Bob Bolman, shortstop; and Hays.

Fairfax will be represented by Muri McGee, pitcher, and Dwight Watts, infielder.

The Blue Division manager will be Joe Lucio of Glen Carbon with J. W. Corey of Mercer as coach.

Calling the shots for the Red Division will be Harold Schweher, Troy manager and Chuck Hasenstab of Mollitor will coach.

Other Red Players
Taking the field for the Red Division from Highland-Pierion will be Denny Warning, catcher; Dean Burk, the league's No. 3 pitcher; Dave Haber, outfield; and Clark.

On the Red team from Troy are Rich Fretz, catch; and Phil Bennet, pitch; in addition to Sonnenberg, Schmitt, Pilcher and Seminsin.

Mollitor will furnish Chuck Bohnenstiel, shortstop; Jim Bone, catch and outfield; Reynolds Weeden, pitch, and Vartanian.

Priory Drops GC Soccer Club

The Priory Rebels of the Priory Junior Soccer League downed the Granite City Soccer Club team 5-1 Monday evening on the Maryknoll Seminary Field in St. Louis.

Granite City's sole point came on a boot by Harvey Breckner, a standout at Grigsby Junior High School this year. The local team was plagued Monday by injuries and prior commitments which removed four starters from the lineup.

In an added game yesterday, the Granite City squad defeated the Hazelwood Juniors 1-0 on a cross from Harvey Breckner to Dennis Jones who scored from five yards out. Gordon Tom Clark was credited with the shutout.

The team again will meet the Rebels at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, July 5, on the Maryknoll Field.

Tennis Tourney In Edwardsville

The Edwardsville Youth Tennis League will hold a tournament at the Edwardsville High School Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Players 16 and under are to report to the high school courts at 9 a.m. Friday and those 18 and under at 9 a.m. Saturday. There is a $1 entry fee and competition in both singles and doubles will be held.

Tennis players interested should contact Sue Asterhus, 12 Vanderbilt Drive, O'Fallon, or Mike Haley, Fairview Heights, 1308-2794.

Charlie Chapple Makes Clean Sweep at Races

Charlie Chapple of Flint, Mich., all his heavy-duty driving motorcycle races Tuesday night at the Tri-City Speedway, winning every event in which he entered, including the feature.

Chapple began "his" night by earning the fastest time-trial of the evening, a quarter-mile in 16.19 seconds. In the first heat for the fastest qualifiers, Chapple kept his cycle ahead of the equipment of Barry Gerald and Delmar Deiss Jr. of Pekin for the victory.

In the second semi-feature event, no one on the track could approach the Flint racer as he took an early lead and won easily. Paul Pressgrove was second and Gordon Dusenberry of Wichita, Kan., finished third.

Slow Start

In the feature event, Chapple was slow on the start and by the first turn was buried in the center of the pack. He continued to gain ground on the leaders until on the eighth lap, he broke into the lead and held it to the checkered flag.

Dale Furst of Sanford, Mich., won the second heat followed by Steve Hannegan of Champaign and Carl LaBlanc of Medina, Ohio.

Robert E. Lee of Fort Worth, Texas, Pressgrove and Deiss finished one, two and three in the third heat which was halted when Mike Caves spilled his cycle. He was not hurt.

John Spinner won the fourth heat, trailed by Cory Ruppert and Ron Sisson of St. Louis.

Furst won the trophy dash followed by Barry Gerald and

Holiday Race Program Friday at Speedway

A special Independence Holiday race program, featuring about 30 of the top super-sprint and late-model stock car drivers in the Midwest, will be held Friday night at the Tri-City Speedway.

Among those in the field will be Wilb Spalding of Pontoon Beach who earned the rare honor of winning the feature races in both classes Friday night.

Spalding will have to fend off rugged competition from the super-sprints of Bill Utz of Sedalia, Mo., Jimmy Moughon of Carrollton, Mo., and likely Chuck Amati of Greenfield, Tenn., all former feature winners at Tri-City this season.

Amati attended last week's program but was unable to compete due to damage to his sprint car from a race elsewhere. Corbin was also unable to appear here Friday night as mechanics spent the evening replacing a damaged engine in his sprinter.

In the late model stock cars, Spalding again will be pitted against Bill Myers of Rosewood Heights, Louie Jansen of Bethalto, Bobby Stanton of East Alton, and about 25 other top drivers.

Time trials will begin at 7:30 p.m. with racing to follow at 8:30 p.m.

PACK 96 TO TOUR CAVE

Scouts of Cub Pack 96, sponsored by the Marquette PTA, attended a St. Louis Cardinals baseball game as "knobhead gang" members for their June summertime activity.

Leading the group were Cubmaster John Schrader and Assistant Cubmaster Tom Pinkle, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hamann, Bill Bush, Mr. and Mrs. John Nash Sr., Mrs. Mary Pieper, Carol Pieper, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Modrusic, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer and Don Childs, Jeff Sherman and Danny Pieper, accompanied by fellow Boy Scout Jimmy Shewell.

Cubs are Jeff Hamann, Kenny Gortine, Kevin Knipping, Robert McClary, Eric Schrader, Shawn Willis, Chris Davis, Billy Mullin, Bill Bush, Robert Meyer, Jeff Nash, Danny Shewell, Charles Thompson, David Thompson, Jerry Modrusic, Kevin Perkins, Donald Pieper and Edward Wilkins. Also present were Kenneth Hellrung, Stan Layer, John Nash Jr., Steve Pinkle and Keith Brandon.

The July pack activity will be a tour of a cave. The pack has received a certificate for "cavehounds for boys" for fulfilling a membership quota.

Several of the scouts are registered to attend a day camp July 11-14, and the Webelos will attend the Webelos Day at Camp Sunnen.

SGT. BOHNENSTIEHL ARRIVES IN KOREA

Sgt. Kenneth W. Bohnenstiehl, son of the late Mrs. Genevieve Bohnenstiehl, has arrived in Kusan, Korea, where he is stationed with the U. S. Air Force. He is an orderly in the 3rd Organizational Maintenance Squadron, which serves F-4 jet fighters. Kusan is located on the Yellow Sea.

Previously, Bohnenstiehl was stationed at Keesler Air Force Base, Biloxi, Miss. He is a graduate of Granite City High School and attended SIU-SW before entering the service. He also attended college while stationed in Alabama.

Mrs. Carl Svoboda, an aunt, and her children, Tim, Carol and Jeannine, motored to Biloxi to bring Bohnenstiehl home to spend his leave prior to departing for overseas duty.

Mr. and Mrs. Svoboda and their children, 2329 O'Hare Ave., entertained at a family dinner in honor of the nephew. Guests included Miss Nancy Bohnenstiehl, sister of the guest of honor, and his uncles, Victor Stroke and Al Stroke.

Sgt. Bohnenstiehl also visited another uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Dan Stroke of Kansas City. While in the Granite City area he was the guest of Al Stroke, 2031 Russell Ave.

Dental Health Grant Obtained by SIU-SW

A professor at the Southern Illinois University School of Dental Medicine has received a $34,031 grant to study whether interactions of oral contraceptives and vitamin K cause harmful blood clotting in women.

Thomas Nelson Jr., chairman of the dental school's department of pharmacology, received the grant from the National Institute for Child Health and Human Development to conduct the study.

"Vitamin K is almost uniquely involved in blood clotting," Nelson said. "It's essential for four clotting proteins produced in the liver. The possible direct substitution of contraceptive steroids for vitamin K may increase the coagulability."

Nelson said experiments to test his hypothesis will be carried out in normal and castrate rats of both sexes and in animals in which the thoracic duct lymph is collected for analysis of vitamin K absorption. The estrogenic effect of vitamin K will be recorded where feasible by uterine weight gain in the castrate female animals.

Three Labor Leaders Push Ogilvie Campaign

Three area labor leaders will head the Metro-East Area Labor for Ogilvie Committee, it was announced Tuesday. They are Ted Dressel, business agent of Operating Engineers Local 520, Granite City; Paul McCormick, business agent of Plumbers and Pipefitters Local 553, Wood River; and Tony Mocer, business agent of Boilermakers Local 363, Belleville.

Dressel, a member of the St. Louis Metropolitan Area Airport Authority, commented that Gov. Richard Ogilvie has been cooperative with labor unions during his term of office.

Record Aquatic Enrollment Attained at Tri-City YMCA

The Tri-City Area YMCA is announcing the highest aquatic enrollment in its history.

Ronald Ireland, "Y" aquatic director, said the "Y" is instructing over 200 youths a day in its Progressive Swim Program, 40 per week in the Parent-Tot Program and 100 adults a week in swimming instruction and advanced aquatics (lifesaving, scuba, etc.).

Ireland said he believes the increase in the swim instruction program is due to increased parent concern that children learn to swim. "Aquatics is the largest sport in the United States, with over 130 million people participating each year. With the tremendous increase in water sports and activities, drownings are the third leading cause of accidental deaths in the U. S.," Ireland pointed out.

Statistics of drownings has, in recent years, reached nearly 7,500 annually. Significantly, more than 60% of the victims are under 25 years of age and one third are teenagers.

"Most tragically, about two-thirds of drowning victims do not know how to swim. The first rule of YMCA water safety remains—learn to swim. With increases in both water activities and drownings, swimming and water safety became even more important in YMCAs," Ireland said.

"YMCA aquatic instructors assume vital roles in the program. To insure that they are both qualified and competent, instructor institutes are operated by the YMCA. The institutes are designed to train and certify aquatic instructors to teach swimming and water safety and to become trainers or instructors in swimming and lifesaving," he explained.

YMCAs annually teach nearly 600,000 persons to swim. In addition, more than 41,000 swimmers pass major "Y" lifesaving tests each year.

Mrs. Taylor, Mother Of GC Residents, Dies

Mrs. Audrey Taylor, 51, of 1104 N. 41st St., Washington Park, mother of two Granite Cityans, died at 4 a.m. Wednesday at the Castle Haven Nursing Home, Swansea, Ill.

She had been ill since March and was at the nursing home for two days.

Mrs. Taylor was born in Blandville, Ky., and had lived in this region for 23 years. A member of Veterans of Foreign Wars Auxiliary 1, she also was active in Women of the Moose Chapter 76.

Survivors include her husband, James P. Taylor, one daughter, Mrs. Edward L. (Peggy) Barrett of Granite City; two sons, Ronnie R. Medlin of Granite City and Larry J. Medlin of Washington Park; her father, Will Day of Wickliffe, Ky.; four sisters, Mrs. Richard (Gladys) Parkham of Wickliffe, Mrs. Raymond (Bea) Kernouts of St. Louis, Mrs. Don (Loretta) Wheeler of Tulsa, Okla., and Mrs. Duke (Billie May) Hook of Paducah, Ky.; and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

Mrs. Ella Ulmsøer Succumbs at Age 87

Mrs. Ella Murry Ulmsøer, 87, Edwardsville, a former 60-year Quad-City resident, died at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Madison County Nursing Home, Edwardsville.

She had been a resident of the nursing home for five and a half years.

Mrs. Ulmsøer was born in Kansas City, Mo., and resided in Granite City prior to moving to Edwardsville 25 years ago. She was a member of the First United Presbyterian Church of Edwardsville.

Her husband, William Charles Ulmsøer, died Dec. 18, 1941. Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Rana (Alice) Erwin of Glen Carbon; one sister, Mrs. Stella Klingsmith of Warren, O., and one grandchild and four great-grandchildren.

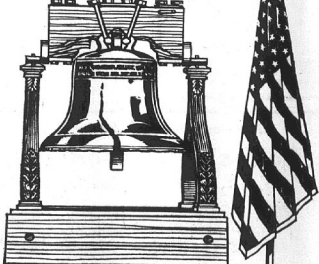

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

COLLIDE ON STATE

Southbound cars of Edward Nagle, 400 Madison Ave., Madison, and William Mosby, St. Louis, collided on State Road at Fifth Street in Madison at 12:40 p.m. Tuesday.

The car was destroyed by fire at 11:40 p.m. Saturday while the car was parked at her home; the car was declared a total loss. It was reported that two men and a woman were notified at the scene when the car burst into flames.

Auditorium

He suggested that, although the contract could not be signed at the meeting, the board authorize the letter of intent, thus encumbering money appropriated in the 1972-73 fiscal year, which ends tomorrow.

The letter of intent will allow Wilson to order steel and other material and to "start work on many of the hazardous and disrupting phases of the construction project prior to the start of school," Heubner said.

B.J. Davis, school superintendent, explained, "We have added many things to this auditorium which were not in the original building. Given this opportunity to improve our facilities, it would not be wise just to rebuild what was there."

Among the improvements planned are a sprinkler system, more functional sound and light systems, an air conditioning and ventilating system, emergency lighting, additional electrical circuits and a new main distribution panel, rigging and staging equipment, including a fire curtain, a staging area and catwalks for maintenance and operation of lighting and staging equipment.

The stage area will be smaller than in the original auditorium and fewer seats will be installed. The height of the area over the stage has been increased 20 feet to allow room for the asbestos curtain. Two teaching stations will be added in the auditorium.

The proposed improvements added approximately $200,000 to the anticipated cost of the project, Supt. Davis said.

Board members agreed that, unless an unforeseen circumstance occurs, available funds from the insurance settlement, money appropriated in the 1972-73 budget and an appropriation in 1972-73 — which will not increase the building fund tax rate — will be sufficient to rebuild the auditorium with the improvements.

Six items in the specifications for the base bid were reduced or deleted during negotiations with Wilson.

Use of galvanized steel gutters and downspouts instead of copper reduced the cost $1,160. Substituting a metal wall panel saved $3,065.

Deletion of a complete cyclorama wall behind the stage reduced the base price $2,100 and one set of doors with the frame and hardware was omitted, saving $505.

Elimination of planned carpeting in classrooms 115 and 116 and substitution of vinyl asbestos floor covering in those rooms, plus elimination of carpeting under seats in the auditorium and balcony, will save $2,089.

Payments from the insurance firm to date on the structure have totaled $568,865 and an additional payment of $109,094 is anticipated for a total settlement of $677,959, Heubner reports.

He said $210,003 has been expended in fire cleanup and replacement operations, leaving $467,956 for building.

In addition, $95,745 is available from the 1971-72 budget and $4,887 from investments, leaving $568,189 in available and anticipated monies for reconstruction.

The balance which will be required from the 1972-73 budget will be $196,733 if the contract is agreed upon at $750,000.

An additional $28,125 already has been paid to the firm of Gabriel and Dulgeroff, architects, for emergency work following the fire, Heubner reported.

Legion Blasts Alton 11-1, Then Ties O'Fallon by 5-5

The Granite City American Legion baseball team blasted an 11-1 victory over Alton on the Collidge diamond Wednesday after battling O'Fallon to a 5-5 tie Monday in a road game called at the end of eight innings due to darkness.

Randy Sturdivant was the winning pitcher Wednesday. Going all the way on the mound, he fanned nine and walked one. The young hurler also lead off a five-run third inning with a solo home run.

The big stick for the local Legion against Alton was first baseman Mike Stanton who tripled in the first with a man on, singled in the second with a man on and doubled in the third for a total of four RBIs. Alton's only run came in the top of the second, being held to four hits and committing two errors.

Granite City's box score showed 13 hits and one error. In action Monday the local Legion held the league leaders to a 5-5 tie on the O'Fallon diamond.

John Stanton pitched seven innings for Granite City, walking two and fanning nine. He was relieved in the ninth inning by Sturdivant who pitched the final inning and struck out all three O'Fallon batters. Steve Forrester came through with a three-run in the fourth inning with two men out. The other GC runs came in the first and sixth innings.

The GC team now has moved into fourth place in the league with a 6-3 record. The local team will play host to Highland on the Collidge diamond at 6 p.m. Friday.

In other league action on Tuesday Belleville dropped Cahokia 8-2 and Collinsville defeated Alton 5-2.

LINDA FOSTER HONORED AT BIRTHDAY PARTIES

Linda Foster was guest of honor at a birthday party given by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Foster, 2612 West 26th St., Tuesday afternoon. A canopy of birthday streamers and balloons was suspended over the table, which was decorated in a ballerina theme.

A large cake decorated with ballerina shoes was the centerpiece. Games were played and prizes were awarded. Each guest received a small cake decorated with a ballerina.

Refreshments were served to Jeff Sparks, Mike and Karen Moore, Dee Dee Durbow, Sherry Foster, Tammy Moore, Darlene Moore, Connie and Debbie Parker and James Abbott.

Linda also was guest of honor at a barbecue held later in the evening. Attending were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Winters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Moore and children, Mike, Karen and Brian Moore, and the honoree's sister, Sherry.

UTILITY POLE FIRE Madison firemen extinguished a utility pole that had caught fire near its top at 2:35 p.m. Wednesday at 14th and State streets.

Mrs. Eva Evans Feted at Party

The Honor Circle of Neidrahaus United Methodist Church was entertained Wednesday at a noon luncheon held in the home of Mrs. Lynn Allen, 3732 Joyce St.

The event honored the hostess' mother-in-law, Mrs. Eva Evans, on her birthday. Guests were seated at individual tables, decorated with bouquets of fresh cut flowers.

Assisting the hostess were Mrs. Evelyn Allen, Mrs. Delores Allen and Mrs. Judy Allen. A corsage and several other gifts were presented to the guests of honor.

Among the guests were Mesdames Van Best, Ida Cox, Mildred Condiff, Beulah Fox, Augusta Pender, Winifred Reimers, Charlotte Weir, Pearl Campbell and Paula Smith and Miss Elva Miller.

Joseph E. Massa, 90, Retired Farmer, Dies

Joseph E. Massa, 90, of 150 S. Aurora St., Collinsville, who formerly farmed in the Sand Prairie area and was a retired coal miner, died at 7:10 p.m. Tuesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Belleville.

He was a member of the Collinsville Moose lodge. His birthplace was Hillsboro, Ill. His wife, Mrs. Martha Massa, died in 1950.

Survivors include three sons, Harold and Robert Massa, both of Collinsville, and Les Massa of Chicago; eight daughters, Mrs. Samuel (Helen) Hunter of Cottage Hills, Mrs. Lucille Matlin, Mrs. Alberta Eberhardt, Mrs. Charles (Arlene) Uleek, Mrs. Ed (Rose) Baime and Mrs. Christine Gynn, all of Collinsville, Mrs. Robert (Lillian) Leffler of Fairview Heights and Mrs. Richard (Bernice) Fiss of Des Moines, Ia.; two brothers, Albert Massa of Denver, Colo., and Elmer Massa of Patton, Mo.; and many grandchildren, great-grandchildren and great-great-grandchildren.

Pupil Physical Exams at Neighborhood Center

First, fifth and ninth grade pupils from families whose annual income meets guidelines established by the Office of Economic Opportunity may receive physical examinations at the Well Baby Clinic, located in the Neighborhood EOC Center, 145 Madison Ave., Madison. Examinations are given each Tuesday by appointment only. Mrs. Anna Wilson, center director, said today. Appointments may be made by calling 451-7824.

Additional days may be scheduled, depending on the number of examinations requested, she explained. The medical examination program was added this month to the regular infant-pre-school child care services offered each Tuesday at the clinic. No child will be examined without an appointment, Mrs. Wilson stressed.

BURGULARS ENTER STORE Two pairs of sunglasses and a cigar were apparently the only items taken in a burglary at the Fitter Thrift Market, 4055 Pontoon Road, Pontoon Beach, last night. ## Cynthia Holder Becomes Mrs. Michael E. Sparks

The Rev. David Maxton officiated at the evening wedding of Miss Cynthia K. Holder and Michael E. Sparks on June 24 at the First United Presbyterian Church.

Miss Holder is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Holder, 2472 Waterman Ave., and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Sparks, reside at 2320 Lincoln Ave.

Candlelight illuminated the aisle and bouquets of white gladioli, mums and pom poms decorated the altar for the seven o'clock ceremony.

Miss Heather Potter sang The Lord's Prayer, "Jesus, of Man's Degrading," and "Love Divine," accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Isabelle Schmidt.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a lovely gown of white dotted swiss enhanced with Venise lace. Fashioned in an A-line silhouette, the gown featured a scoop neckline and Queen Ann sleeves, edged with Venise lace and white satin ribbon.

Lace and ribbon encircled the Empire waist and Venise lace formed the deep hem of the A-line skirt and detachable train. To hold in place a shoulder length veil of bridal illusion, the former Miss Holder wore a headpiece of lace, pearls and iridescent sequins carrying a tiana cap effect.

The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white daisies and cymbidium orchids, festooned with satin streamers.

The former Miss Holder is employed at Reinhold and Gardner Stock Brokers in St. Louis. Mr. Sparks is attending Belleville Junior College.

cented the high rise waistline and a soft ruffled trim edged the neckline and shaped the sleeves.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. James Kietly, Miss Mindy Knapp and Miss Lori Amem, were attired in identically designed frocks in shades of apricot, yellow and pink.

Karen Reiter, the little flower girl, was in a blue polyester dress, made similar to the adult attendant's frocks.

Each girl wore a white picture hat with ribbons in matching colors and carried a colonial bouquet of daisies.

Misses Jackie and Dorothy Ganchoff, both cousins of the groom, were candlelighters.

Richard Diak was chosen by the groom to serve as best man. James Kietly, Michael Henderson and Mark Cook, the bride's cousin, groomsmen and Edward Holder and Daniel Sparks, brothers of the bride and groom, seated the guests.

The ringbearer was Frank White, another cousin of the groom.

Miss June Barker, another cousin of the groom, presided at the guest book during a reception held in the church hall immediately following the ceremony.

Mrs. Holder chose for her daughter's wedding, a blue dress, complemented with white accessories. Both mothers wore cymbidium orchid corsages.

The former Miss Holder is employed at Reinhold and Gardner Stock Brokers in St. Louis. Mr. Sparks is attending Belleville Junior College.

MR. AND MRS. CARL ANDREW LISAC who were united in marriage at St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church. The bride is the former Miss Victoria Lynn Kubelka, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Kubelka, 3305 Wilshire Drive.

Miss Victoria Kubelka, Carl A. Lisac Are Wed

St. Elizabeth Roman Catholic Church was the scene of the afternoon wedding on June 24 of Miss Victoria Lynn Kubelka, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank G. Kubelka, 3305 Wilshire Drive, and Carl Andrew Lisac, son of Mrs. Rose Lisac, 2909 Maryville Road, and the late Andrew Lisac.

The Rev. Lawrence J. Mattingly heard the couple exchange their marriage vows at one o'clock before an altar adorned with bouquets of white summer flowers and greenery.

Mr. Kubelka escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle. She wore an elegant gown in classic styling fashioned of imported organza. Designed with a square neckline, detailed with imported Venise lace, the molded bodice had matching lace motifs and tiny yellow satin covered buttons in the front.

Venise lace garlands and matching lace ribbon accented the hemline of the A-shaped skirt and were repeated above the yellow satin and lace cuffs of the full bishop sleeves.

Her cathedral length veil of imported French bridal illusion, in mantilla style, was bordered in matching yellow satin ribbon inserted through narrow white Venise lace. The bridal bouquet was a cascade of white and yellow roses and gardenias centered with a gardenia corsage.

To create a rainbow of colors, Miss Celeste Vossmeier, maid of honor, appeared in yellow and the bridesmaids, Miss Debbie Narancich, the groom's cousin, was in a sea green, Miss Andrea Lisac, a sister of the groom, chose melon. Miss Christine Balhorn, flower girl, a niece of the bride, wore pink and was escorted by Kevin Carter, a nephew of the groom.

Their colonial styled gowns featured fitted bodices, with square necklines edged with narrow Venise lace and colored braid. Lace and braid also accented the bishop sleeves and cuffs and trimmed the cascade of tiers of the very full skirts.

Each attendant wore a white picture hat with ribbons to match her gown encircling the crown and forming a bow and streamers. They carried colonial bouquets of baby breath, daisy pom poms and seafoam statice in rainbow colors.

The groom chose Daniel Monken as best man. Mark Maygar, a cousin of the bride, Don Knorr, John Kaprich, the groom's cousin and Rory Maygar, the bride's cousin, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

Guests attended an evening reception at 8:30 p.m. at the VFW Hall in Granite City.

Mrs. Kubelka chose for her daughter's wedding a coat and dress ensemble in mint green. The A-line dress featured a ring collar enhanced with small white daisies. Imported Venise lace with avocado satin ribbon formed a design on the dress front and she wore white accessories.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Lisac, selected a short sleeve dress in pink, with a matching long sleeve coat. Her dress was accented with applique lace around the collar and down the front and her accessories were in white. Both mothers wore white cymbidium orchids.

After a wedding trip to the Ozarks, the newly married couple will reside in Granite City. Both are graduates of Granite City High School and are employed in St. Louis. The former Miss Kubelka is a secretary for the Internal Revenue Service and her husband is a staffing clerk with the U. S. Civil Service Commission.

Silver Belles Mark Anniversary

Madison Silver Belles Senior Citizen Club was host at a second anniversary observance of the organization this week at the Venice Recreation Center.

Tables were decorated with handmade tulips and buttercups prepared by the members. Special guests attending were members of the Silver Crown of Alton.

Opening prayer was offered by Rev. E. J. Seal and the Rev. C. C. Waters introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Christine Briggs, of East St. Louis. She chose as her topic, "Christian Security."

An afternoon luncheon was served to 40 members and guests. The Rev. A. T. Jefferson will present the "thought for the day" at the club's regular meeting Monday.

Shower Honors Mrs. Chasteen

Mrs. Richard Chasteen, the former Pat Piffen, was guest of honor at a kitchen bridal shower given by Mrs. Donna Spanberger and Mrs. Donna Spanberger and Mrs. Barbara Dickerson at the latter's home, 2400 Terminal Ave., this week.

Lunch was served and games were enjoyed by Mesdames Ruby Pfaff, Judy Harris, Myrtle McDowell, Lucille Sackett, Shirlee Best, Carol Davis, Julie Gates, Pat Howard, Linda Pickett, Cookie Spanberger, Mary Jan Wasylak, Glenda Charbonnier, Misses Tammy Adams and Angela Dickerson and Glen Demes Sprinkle.

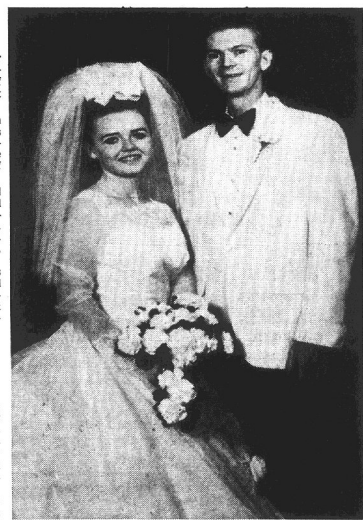

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Kenneth Chasteen and Mrs. Sue Hatcher of Vandalia, Mo., and Mrs. and Mrs. Raymond Roller and children of St. Clair, Mo.

Mrs. and Mrs. Chasteen were married May 27 at Calvary Baptist Church. They are now residing in Collinsville.

MR. AND MRS. BILL O. ROSS. She is the former Miss Rita Marie Krause, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Krause, 3996 Lake St. They were married at St. John Lutheran Church.

Ross-Krause Nuptials At St. John Lutheran

Miss Rita Marie Krause and Bill O. Ross exchanged wedding vows June 24 in a late afternoon ceremony at St. John Lutheran Church.

Lighted tapers in hurricane lamps at the altar illuminated the sanctuary for the five o'clock service, performed by the Rev. Samuel Boda. Several wedding selections were furnished by Miss Maribeth Luskhart who presided at the organ.

Parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John R. Krause, reside at 3996 Lake St. The groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Andersen, live at 4265 Brunet Ave.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Daniel F. Krause, and the bridesmaid, Mrs. Leroy Hoffmann, both sisters of the groom, wore formal length gowns made in Empire style.

Mrs. Krause chose orchid and pink. Their dresses were fashioned of crepe with puffed sleeves. Velvet sashes in deep pink and orchid shades, encircled the high rise waistlines. Noctrip veils secured with velvet bows were in colors to match their gowns and they held carnation nosegays.

Carrie Lynn Ross, a niece of the groom, was in a white organza frock with short puffed sleeves and the full skirt accented at the waist with a deep purple velvet sash. She carried a white wicker basket of rose petals and a short veil was held in place with a lavender bow.

Wearing an exquisite bridal gown of white silk organza over taupe de soie and lace, the bride was escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father.

Long tapered sleeves, ending in points over the wrists, were fitted in a fitted empire design, with a square neckline, edged with scalloped lace and etched with sequins.

Her elbow length veil of bridal illusion was held with a bow and leaves edged in heavy lace and outlined with tiny pearls and aurora horisels. She carried a cascade of white carnations and baby breath.

Daniel F. Krause, the bride's brother, attended the groom as best man with Leroy Hoffmann, a brother-in-law of the groom, as groomsmen. Ushers were the bride and groom's brothers, Owen E. Ross and Michael R. Robert John Krause.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Ross received guests at Long Lake Fire Hall for the ceremony. They departed for a wedding trip to Kentucky and will reside in Granite City upon their return.

Surprise Party Honors Retiree

A surprise retirement party honoring Floyd Hatcher was given this week at the home of his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Vic Kahn and daughter, Kim, 1548 Garfield Ave.

The honored guest retired June 23 from the U. S. Army Aviation Systems Command, in St. Louis, after 29 years of federal service. He was employed 10 years at the Granite City Army Installation, leaving the local depot in 1970.

Gifts were presented the retiree and a buffet dinner was served to the guests, including his wife, Ruth and sons, Dennis and Ronald.

Other well-wishers attending were Miss Christy Ashcraft, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ashcraft and daughter, Mrs. Melton Martin and daughter, Robyn, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kahn Sr., Mr. and Mrs. John Vaughn, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Vaughn and children, Jeff, Jennifer and Janette, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Macklin, Mrs. Mary File, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Hileman, Norval T. Critchfield and Don Treaster.

Hatcher received a congratulatory telephone call during the

Parents Group Names Mrs. Lewis

Mrs. Audrey Lewis was elected president of the Granite City Association for Retarded at a meeting Monday evening at St. John United Church of Christ. She succeeds Mrs. Hazel Kynion.

Named to serve with Mrs. Lewis during 1972-73, are: Mrs. Emma Relleke, vice president; Mrs. Hilda Few, secretary; and Mrs. Helen DeRuntz, treasurer.

A detailed report was presented on activities at the annual day camp for area youngsters, co-sponsored by the Granite City Park District and association, which concluded during the weekend at Wilson Park.

Forty-two children were enrolled with an average daily attendance of 38. Transportation was furnished by the association.

Margaret Roberts, a physical education teacher at Maryville Grade School, served party with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. James Hendrix of Steelville, Mo.

as camp coordinator, aided by six counselors and five junior counselors.

Concluding the two-week program of camps, sporting events, games and picnics, was a family cookout and campfire song-fest at the Baptist Camp Grounds in Mitchell.

The children also spent one day at "Six Flags Over Mid-America," a most enjoyable experience, Mrs. DeRuntz reported to the group.

Regular meetings of the association will resume Sept. 25 at St. John's Church.

First Comptroller of State Will Be Chosen

Copley News Service

Springfield — Illinoisans this year will select a state comptroller rather than a state auditor.

The change in the title of the office was made in the 1970 constitution, approved by voters.

Basically, functions of the office will remain the same. Several bills have been before the General Assembly to make changes in the law compatible to the change in the name of the office.

When the present state auditor's term ends in January, that term will go out of existence as far as titles go on the Illinois ballot. Actually, the two candidates running now for the office are using the title of comptroller.

The Republican party is running State Rep. George W. Lindberg of Crystal Lake and the Democratic party nominee is educator Dean Barringer of Anna. The present state auditor, Michael J. Howlett of Chicago, is running for secretary of state on the Democratic ticket.

There have been some feelings that the constitutional convention in its work did not completely spell out the work of the comptroller. Others say the duties of the present auditor's office would be absorbed by the comptroller.

At one stage, a bill was in the General Assembly that would have given the comptroller's office complete control over all state funds, including those of universities. On the university level, this would have made the comptroller's office a potent force.

It did not pass, but this idea of the state playing a larger role in the use of state monies at public universities and colleges is not completely dead. The Bureau of the Budget, headed by John Wilbur McCarter Jr., has expanded the state's role in this area a great deal in the past three years.

Some state officials feel that the state could exercise greater control over state monies at the public universities and colleges by allowing the comptroller's office to have a say in the expenditures.

Lions Will Install
At Gathering Tonight

The annual dinner, dance and installation of officers of the Madison Lions Club will be held today at 7 p.m. in the Sportsman's Club, Tenth and Iowa streets, Madison.

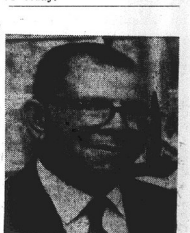

"We expect a crowd of at least 50 members and wives to attend, and of course visiting Lion members are welcome," James Perdue, ticket chairman said.

The Hal Smithson Trio will furnish music. Walter Gavlick past president of the club, will be the installing officer. Travis Rash is the retiring president and Dave Clark will take the office July 1.

Collection to Open
Personal and real estate property taxes for the 1971 tax year will begin Monday in the office of Paul Rutledge, city treasurer. Collections will continue through Aug. 1. Tax bills are being mailed this week.

FIRE EXTINGUISHED

Venice firemen extinguished a weed fire in the 1100 block of Logan Street at 12:30 p.m. Tuesday.

HUGH HAIRSTON

Hairston Is Delegate To NAACP Convention

Hugh Hairston of Venice, financial chairman of the Illinois Conference of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, is a delegate to the NAACP national convention to be held Monday through next Friday at Detroit.

He reported that a major issue at the convention will be the matter of busing school children and the following NAACP petition to President Nixon is being circulated in this area: "I want quality integrated education for all children and I support bus transportation as one of the ways to achieve it. I oppose the Nixon moratorium on busing for integration and I oppose all other attempts to restrict the reasonable use of bus transportation to end segregated schools."

He said persons wishing to sign the petition or to cooperate in the issue may contact him at his home at 901 Main St., Venice, or Mrs. Babel Dandridge, president of the local NAACP chapter.

Hairston also announced that he plans to devote his time to work of the church and of the NAACP.

Sheryl Cook, 11-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cook, 2021 Illinois Ave., is recuperating from major surgery at St. Louis Children's Hospital. She is a patient in Room 446.

A sixth grade pupil at Logan School, the youngster underwent removal of the spleen Wednesday. She has been in ill health and under medical care for the ailment the past 12 months.

Sheryl, who is expected to remain in the hospital through next week, would like to hear from her friends, a family spokesman said.

Pontoon Baptist Scene Of Mayes-Baker Wedding

The wedding of Miss Judy Baker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Baker, 4128 South Drive, and Gary Mayes, a son of Marvin Mayes, 1721 Third St., Madison, took place June 24 at Pontoon Baptist Church.

Officiating at the 7 p.m. ceremony was the Rev. Gus Felter Jr. Greenery and arrangements of white flowers decorated the altar and lighted tapers illuminated the sanctuary.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Baker selected a gown of white silk designed with an Empire bodice and a low square neckline edged in scalloped lace. Matching lace was repeated on the long full sleeves and formed a scalloped design, accented with a tiny satin bow, on the A-line skirt.

A cathedral length veil of bridal illusion was trimmed with a delicate lace border and secured with a white satin headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses and greenery.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Irma Fry, wore a yellow chiffon gown fashioned in an A-line style. She held a bouquet of yellow carnations.

Attending the groom as best man was Ronald Fry. Ushers were Reg Asher and Kenneth Stahl, both uncles of the bride.

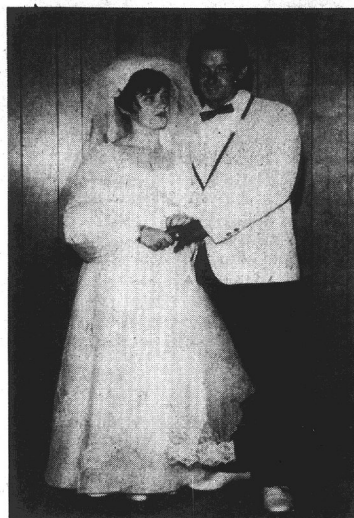

A reception was held in the 300 Room at Tri-Mor Bowl immediately following the ceremony.

The couple is residing in Edwardsville. A graduate of Granite City High School, the former Miss Baker is employed at Jefferson Bank in St. Louis. Mr. Mayes attended Madison schools.

Four Home from Tour of Europe

Mr. and Mrs. C. Ray Kinder and daughter, Nancy, 7 Frontenac Lane, and Miss Nancy Milton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer L. Milton, 3235 Westchester Drive, have returned from a 22-day tour of Western Europe.

Countries visited were England, Holland, Germany, Austria, Switzerland, Liechtenstein, Italy, the Vatican, Monaco and France.

MR. AND MRS. GARY MAYES, whose wedding took place at Pontoon Baptist Church. The bride is the former Miss Judy Baker, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Baker, 4128 South Drive, Pontoon Beach.

Harmony Singers In Two Programs

The Spiritual Gospel Singing Hour will feature the Harmony Singers of Metropolis, Ill., plus several other singing groups at special worship services at the Grace Baptist Church, 26th and Edwards Streets, Sunday, July 2, at 10:30 a.m. and again that day at 2 p.m. at the First Baptist Church, 2312 Charles St. The Rev. Louis Brinker is pastor of Grace Baptist and the Rev. Darrell Mills is pastor of First Baptist.

The Harmony Singers, with Manager Kenneth Falkerson, Joan L. Falkerson and Geraldine Corrine, drew a full house at the First Baptist Church in Madison earlier this month. Wilson J. Carney, president of the Spiritual Gospel Singing Hour, reports. The Singing Hour is a denominational, non-profit organization all dates are booked for the remainder of the year.

Carney said all pastors and parishioners are invited to attend both programs this Sunday. Other officers for the organization are Bert Chapman, vice-president, and Clarence Hagler, secretary-treasurer.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM MCGUIRE, whose wedding took place at Prince of Peace Lutheran Church, Medina, Ohio. The bride is the former Miss Constance Edwards, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Edwards Sr., of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, formerly of Granite City.

Miss Constance Edwards Marries in Medina, Ohio

An out-of-town wedding of interest here was that of Miss Constance Marie Edwards, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald G. Edwards Sr., 230 Graham Road, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, formerly of Granite City, and William Michael McGuire, taking place May 27 at the Prince of Peace Lutheran Church in Medina, Ohio.

The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. George T. McGuire of Cleveland, Ohio.

Performing the wedding ceremony was the Rev. Kenneth Braum.

For her wedding, the bride chose a gown of ivory silk organza designed with bishop sleeves. Alencon lace accented the high neck and cuffs and scalloped lace bordered on the hemline.

She wore a matching cathedral mantilla of Alencon lace and carried a cascade of white carnations, yellow Sweetheart roses and lavender Stephanotis.

Mrs. Kathleen Flohr, matron of honor, wore a formal length gown fashioned with an ivory chiffon bodice and a ruffled skirt of maize lace.

The bridesmaids, Mrs. Laura Kivrel, Miss Brenda Sexton, Mrs. Patricia Johnson, Mrs. Cathy Flohr and Miss Marianne Edwards, were attired in identical gowns. Their dresses were designed with ivory chiffon bodices and lavender skirts. All the attendants wore picture hats in colors to match their frocks and carried white baskets of yellow rose buds, white pom poms and baby breath.

Jennifer Thomas, a cousin of the bride, was flower girl and Troy Michael Flohr was ring bearer.

Kenneth Johnson was best man. Donald Edwards Jr., and George, Robert, David and Mark McGuire completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception attended by 200 guests was given at Caro's Swim Club. The newly married couple is living in Cleveland, following a honeymoon in Hawaii.

The former Miss Edwards is a graduate of Medina High School and Mount St. Mary's Academy in Little Rock, Ark. She presently is employed by Columbia Gas Co. in Medina.

Singletons Greet 200 at Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Singleton, 1 Jones Park Drive, greeted over 200 guests at a reception given in observance of their 50th wedding anniversary at Long Lake Firemen's Hall in Ponton Beach.

A buffet dinner was served during the afternoon from a table centered with a tiered wedding cake, topped with the numerals "50" in gold. Other appointments followed the gold and white color decor, including those of the gift table which held a "money tree."

The couple has five children. Those attending the reception were Gilbert Singleton of Westport, Conn.; Berlin Singleton of Granite City; Mrs. Gladys Lackey of Kansas City, Mo.; and Jerry Singleton of Collinsville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Aske of California, was unable to be present.

Out-of-town guests who attended were Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lane of Ponton, Mo.; Mrs. L. Horton, Rector, Ark.; Mrs. Jan Pirtle and children of Nashville, Tenn.; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Bartlett and children and Mrs. Margaret Bartlett, all of Coal Hill, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Reeder and sons of Lincoln, Ill.; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Luther of White Oak, Mo.; Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Boyer of O'Fallon, Mo.; Mrs. Johnny Horton and son of Rector, Ark.; Mrs. Danyce Gregory of Paducah, Ky.; and Mrs. Gilbert Singleton of Westport, Conn.

Mr. and Mrs. James Haas, whose wedding took place at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Trenton, Ill. The bride is the former Miss Shirley Ann Williams, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Williams, 2808 Birch Ave.

Haas-Williams Wedding Solemnized in Trenton

Miss Shirley Ann Williams became the bride of James Frank Haas in an evening ceremony on June 16 at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church in Trenton, Ill.

The Rev. J. W. Dierper performed the double ring ceremony at 7 o'clock before an altar decorated with arrangements of white carnations and pink gladioli.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Garnett Williams, 2808 Birch Ave., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haas, 194 E. Wisconsin St., Trenton.

For her wedding, the former Miss Williams selected a gown of white sheer organza trimmed with Venice lace. Fashioned in an A-line silhouette, the fitted bodice was detailed with a Venice lace design on the front and matching lace around the high collar and centering the long bishop sleeves.

She wore a headpiece of Venice lace, holding in place a chapel length mantilla veil of bridal illusion, and she carried a bouquet of white crystal 'mums, pom poms and baby breath.

Maid of honor, Miss Brenda Bivens, served with the bridesmaids, Miss Kathy Williams, a sister of the bride, Mrs. Rhonda Pinkley and Miss Connie Slinger.

They were dressed in identically styled gowns in floral pink and avocado. Avocado ribbon, inserted in Venice lace, daintily trimmed the white V shaped yoke and formed the high collar. The ruffled cuffs of the long sleeves and a gathered flounce at the hemline were accented with matching ribbon and lace.

Each attendant wore a pale pink spun straw hat enhanced with lace and avocado ribbons and carried a French nosegay of pink daisies and baby breath. Linda Williams, a sister of the bride, wore a frock similar to the adult maids and carried a white basket of rose petals.

Glen Hortsman served as best man, with Don Lampe, Bob Clark and John Renscher as groomsmen. Ushers were Dennis Haas, a brother of the groom and Thomas Deien.

Guests were entertained at a reception at the VFW Hall in Trenton following the ceremony.

The newly married couple is residing in Trenton after returning from a wedding trip to Kentucky Lake.

A graduate of Granite City High School, the former Miss Williams is employed as a clerk-stenographer with the U. S. Army Aviation Systems Command in St. Louis. Mr. Haas works as a carpenter. He is a member of Carpenter's Local 480.

4 Amvets Attend State Convention

Representatives of Amvets Post 51 attended the Illinois Amvets state convention which concluded this week at Crete in the Chicago Heights area. The three-day conference was centered at Crete Memorial Post 84, home post of Robert Showalter, immediate past commander of the National Amvets organization.

Adam Petras, Post 51 first vice-commander, was the official delegate from the local post. Also taking part in the convention activities were Leo Clements, Illinois Amvets vice-commander from Granite City; Charles Wilkins Jr., Post 51 commander; and Al Damal, treasurer.

Attending the state meeting with their husbands were Mrs. Charlotte Damal, Amvets 51 Auxiliary president; Mrs. Rita Clements, senior vice-president; Mrs. Betty Wilkins, chaplain; and Mrs. Jackie Petras, a member of the auxiliary unit.

Mrs. LARRY C. SWAIN, the former Miss Roberta Jo Carlton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Raymond Carlton of Collinsville, who was married at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Assembly of God Church.

Roberta Carlton Wed In Afternoon Ceremony

Miss Roberta Jo Carlton, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Raymond Carlton, 1033 West Clay St., Collinsville and the Rev. Larry E. Swain, 3809C Village Lane, were united in marriage June 17 at Tri-City Park Tabernacle Assembly of God Church.

He is a son of Mrs. Winnie Swain of Springfield, Mo.

The Rev. John Polizzi officiated at the double ring ceremony at 2:30 in the afternoon before an altar adorned with bouquets of white summer flowers.

Robert Forietz, organist, accompanied the soloists, Denny Persons and Miss Candy Zimmerman, who sang "The Lord's Prayer," "Submission" and "All My Life."

Wearing a gown of pure white chiffon fashioned with a pancho of imported Chantilly lace, embellished with pearls and iridescent sequins, the bride was escorted and given in marriage by her father. Long tapered

July 4th, Independence Day, is a great American holiday that really is a source of country of ours men and women, whose possible for us to have a United States of America.

The spirit of 1776 — flows in the veins of every flag that flies on American soil. It's the spirit that keeps the light of freedom burning not only for Americans but for all other people throughout the world as well. On the 4th of July and on every American Holiday, let us fly our American flag proudly, and when we say our Pledge of Allegiance or sing our National Anthem, let it be loud and clear.

Severinsen Fans Happy -- Doc Returning to River Festival on July 9

A big hit at the Mississippi River Festival here last summer, Doc Severinsen will return this year.

He will appear with the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra during the first weekend of the summer concert season, on Sunday evening, July 9. Leonard Slatkin, associate conductor, will lead the orchestra that night.

As a seven-year-old, Carl Severinsen of Arlington, Ore., balked at learning to play the violin. His father, the local dentist, finally gave in and bought him a trumpet, local fans recall.

Three weeks later, he was invited to join the high school band. Two years later, he won the state contest and at the age of 12 was winner of the Music Educators' national contest.

Before completing high school, he went on the road with Ted Rita's band, dragging his schoolbooks with him. After graduation and a short term in the Army, he played with Tommy Dorsey, Charlie Barnett and Benny Goodman.

In 1949, he went to New York and was hired as a National Broadcasting Co. staff musician. After appearances on many NBC shows, he became a regular member of Skitch Henderson's Orchestra in 1952.

Today, Doc is musical conductor of the "Tonight Show." His way-out looks and nightly byplay with Johnny Carson are enjoyed by millions of viewers.

Doc appears in all of the Johnny Carson concerts, conducts Brass Clinics and is a guest soloist with major symphonies around the country, including—as Quad-Cityans are happy to note—as the St. Louis Symphony.

10 Area Students on Deans' List at SIU

Ten area students have earned deans' list recognition for academic achievement during the spring term at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale. They are:

Larry R. King, 2126 Illinois Ave., Murrel L. Spengler, 2608 Adams St., and Mary E. Schwahn, 1724 Fifth St., Madison, all with straight A's.

David L. Allen, 3711 Nameoki Road; Mary F. Chapman, 2822 Pershing Ave.; Carol J. Eberwine, 25 Arlington Drive; Donna J. Gradilano, 58 Southern Mobile Homes; Jeffrey Lybarger, 1825 Primrose Ave.; Bill F. McMaisters, 2339 Emert Ave.; and George T. Noeth, 2327 St. Bernard Ave.

Gerald Griffith Earns St. John's Honors

Gerald Griffith, son of Gerald W. Griffith of Granite City, has been named to the academic honors list for the spring term at St. John's University Collegeville, Minn., it was announced by Dr. John Lange, academic dean.

The list includes those students who have maintained a 3.5 grade point average (out of a possible 4.0) or better while carrying at least 12 credits. Griffith is a sophomore.

TAXI, AUTO COLLIDE

A taxicab driven by Glenn A. Heath, 2117 Ohio Ave., and an auto driven by Donald H. Kaltmayer, 1607 Garfield Ave., were in an accident at 6:20 a.m. Wednesday at 20th Street and Madison Avenue.

MINIBIKE STOLEN

June Mercer, 3309 Wabash Ave., reported at 9:40 a.m. Wednesday that a 1970 minibike was stolen while it was parked in her garage.

phony Orchestra at the July 9 Mississippi River Festival concert at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Parking Ban, Stop Signs Are Approved

Two traffic control ordinances were adopted by the Granite City Council at its meeting Monday night.

One new law bans parking on the east side of Charles Street between Propes Avenue and East 25th Street.

The other designates a two-way stop sign on Charles at Sheridan Avenue and a stop sign on Sheridan in an easterly direction; stop signs on Willow Avenue at Wilson Avenue; and four-way stop signs at Wabash and Cottage Avenues.

PLAYER, TAPES STOLEN

Michael Ray, 3205 Kirkpatrick Homes, reported at 7:35 a.m. Wednesday that burglars stole a tape player and 20 tapes valued at $125 from his auto, parked at his home during the night. The left wing window of the car was broken.

FENCING STOLEN

A roll of chain link fencing, valued at $125, was stolen from the Wilbur Waggoner Trucking Co., 4 Caline Drive, Madison, it was reported at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

VANDALS DAMAGE AUTOS

Vandals damaged three autos on the parking lot at the B. E. Hohl Agency, 1837 Madison Ave., it was reported at 2:35 p.m. Tuesday. A windshield was knocked out on a 1967 auto and ignition wires were crossed on 1968 and 1969 autos. Estimated damage was $160.

COPPER ON ROOF STOLEN

Nick Vassileff, owner of a building at 404 Madison Ave., Madison, told Madison police Tuesday that several sections of copper flashing were stolen from the roof of the building. Neighbors reported three men were seen on the roof.

TRAVELING BY AIR? CALL

HOLIDAY SERVICE, 452-3131

SERVICE MANAGER. Richard Chitwood (right) of the B. E. Hohl agency, Granite City, receives a silver "medallion manager" award plaque from George Murray, manager of Ford Customer Service Division's St. Louis district. The award is presented annually to those parts and service managers at Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealerships across the U. S. who are judged outstanding in customer service, sales and management ability. The award also includes an all-expense-paid weekend vacation for two at a well-known resort.

Mrs. Iva Baker, 71, Here 50 Years, Dies

Mrs. Iva Myrtle Baker, 71, formerly of 404 Kirkpatrick Homes, died at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday at Pleasant Rest Nursing Home, Collinsville. She had been ill for two years and a patient at the nursing home for the same length of time.

Born in Cairo, Ill., Mrs. Baker resided in Granite City for 50 years.

Surviving are three sons, James Baker of Granite City; Marvin Baker of Danville; and Joseph Baker of Troy; three sisters, Mrs. Alma Brown, Mrs. Eva Haley and Mrs. Ruth Clouse, all of Granite City; one brother, Carl Atchison of Granite City; and eight grandchildren.

Funeral services were held in Granite City today. Arrangements are given in the obituary column.

County Bar Headed by Attorney V. J. Mosele

Victor J. Mosele, an Alton attorney, was elected president of the Madison County Bar Association at a weekend meeting in the Madison County Courthouse, Edwardsville. He succeeds William W. Schooley of Granite City.

Other officers named to serve in 1972-73 are: George Filcoff Jr., Granite City, vice-president; Gary Peel, Edwardsville, secretary; and Robert Larson, Alton, treasurer. Trustees elected were: Matthew L. Welch, Collinsville; Elmer H. Bernard, Alton; and Dale G. Hyle, Granite City.

School Wrestling Gains as Spectator Sport, Club Told

William "Red" Schmitt, coach of the Granite City High School wrestling team, spoke at a weekly meeting of the Granite City Rotary Club Tuesday on the growth of wrestling on a nation-wide basis as a spectator sport.

The first state wrestling meet in 1934 was held in Champaign and attended by 36 persons, while in 1972 the Illinois tournament in Normal attracted 36,000 spectators," Schmitt noted.

With the increased interest in the sport, Iowa and Wisconsin have a like number of interested persons who attend their meets, he added. Today, several thousand high schools have good wrestling programs and consequently are drawing large crowds for dual meets, the coach said.

Schmitt reviewed the past record of GCHS teams, indicating they have one of the best records in the state. Next season will be a difficult one, as eight varsity members have graduated, he said; 1972-73 will mark the 40th anniversary of wrestling at the school.

A. H. Froemling, retiring president, presided at the meeting and announced there will be no meeting next week due to the July Fourth holiday.

$11,772 Communications Disorders to SIU-SW

The Bureau of Education for the Handicapped of the U. S. Office of Education has awarded a grant renewal of $11,772 to support a program at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern called "Training Professional Personnel in Education of the Handicapped." The program is directed by Keith St. Onge, professor of speech and theatre.

St. Onge said the money will be used to continue subsidies to graduate students investigating communications disorders. The program began at the undergraduate level in 1965 and was elevated to the graduate level in 1969.

1967 AUTO IS STOLEN

The light blue 1967 car of Dave Clark, 909 McCambridge Ave., Madison, was stolen from the 1900 block of Edwardsville Road at 2:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Rites Held Today for Brother of Local Men

Edward J. Gaudette, 56, of 2834 Keokuk St., St. Louis, brother of two Granite City men, died at 5 a.m. Tuesday at his home. He had been ill with a heart ailment and was retired from Edison Brothers Shoe Co.

Mr. Gaudette was a member of St. Thomas Catholic Church. He is survived by his wife, Gladys; three brothers, Raymond L. and Albert K. Gaudette, both of Granite City; and Paul Gaudette of St. Louis; a daughter, Mrs. Annie Murphy of California; and several nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held at Memorial Gardens Cemetery, Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Loopholes Non-Existent or Low, Middle Earners; Must Spend Less to Ease Taxation

(Guest comment by Arch N. Booth, executive vice-president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, a federation representing 5,000,000 firms, organizations and individuals.)

Do the rich "escape" paying taxes? Could we all have a lower tax bill if the "loopholes" were closed? Some people say so.

There are many complex questions wrapped up in this issue, which sounds deceptively simple at first reading. Is it only the rich who sometimes pay no income tax? Are the deductions — "loopholes" — used by the rich substantially different from those used by other Americans?

Do the deductions serve any socially useful purpose? Finally, if the deductions were repealed, what would be the likely effect on each of us?

What are the facts? Well, there are people with high incomes who paid no federal income tax. About one percent of the nation's population justed gross incomes of over $100,000 in 1970 paid no income tax.

Are they the only ones who escaped the tax? No. For example, of those who filed returns and made less than $10,000 in 1970, 30% paid no tax.

It's easy to argue that there's more justice in the under-$10,000 man not paying taxes than there is in the over-$100,000 man not paying them, but the point here is that deductions are not confined to the rich alone. They operate up and down the income scale.

Now, are the deductions used by the rich different? Ralph Nader has pointed out, correctly, that 112 people who made over $200,000 in 1970 paid no federal income tax. He says they did it by taking advantage of "loopholes" unavailable to the ordinary citizen. That's not true.

Let's take a look at their returns. Of the 112, 54 used the interest deduction as their primary deduction. That's the same deduction most American homeowners use when they deduct the interest on their mortgages and the contributions as their primary deduction. And 12 used the state income tax deduction.

So a large majority — 79 — of these rich tax "evaders" used the deductions familiar to most Americans. Admittedly, they probably had a lot of expert advice not available to most Americans.

Suppose we repealed these "loopholes"? Well, the government would get more revenue, but very little of it would come from the rich. For example, in 1970 taxpayers making less than $10,000 accounted for 23% of the total amount deducted for interest. Those with incomes above $100,000 accounted for only 3%.

Those with incomes below $20,000 accounted for 65% of all charitable deductions that year, while those making more than $100,000 accounted for only 8%. Seventy-six percent of the total amount deducted for medical expenses was deducted by those making less than $20,000. The over-$100,000 group accounted for less than one-half of one percent of the total for medical expense deductions.

If some of these "loopholes" were closed, an extra burden would be thrown on the government. For example, if there were no tax incentive to contribute to charitable institutions, many of the charities would be unable to continue their work. But someone would have to do it. Who? The government. Where would the government get the money? Higher taxes.

Suppose we removed the tax exemption for the interest on state and municipal bonds? These bonds carry a very low interest rate, because of the tax exemption. When an investor buys them, he is agreeing to accept a low interest rate in return for the exemption.

Without the exemption, such bonds would no longer be attractive to investors at the low rate. So the states and cities would have to offer a higher rate of interest. Who would pay the higher interest? State and city taxpayers, that's who. And so it goes.

The tax code is probably not perfect; nothing is. But it is not safe to bet that your own tax would go down if all deductions were repealed. It might go up, down, or stay about where it is, depending upon what deductions you are now using.

The practical problem with "soak-the-rich" tax schemes in America is that they just can't produce enough extra revenue to allow a big across-the-board tax cut. That's true because the vast bulk of America's income is earned by the middle-income group.

The very rich — the top 5% — earn only 14% of all income. Even if we took all 14% — their entire income — it would not amount to very much when divided up among the remaining 86% of us.

The one sure way to reduce taxes is for the government to spend less. That's something we can keep in mind when we hear politicians calling for expensive new federal spending programs.

Not—Accurately—Calling the Kettle Black

Noting the large contribution which the United States makes to the United Nations, U.S. diplomats urged their colleagues in the U. N. to be more economy-minded. A State Department memo points out that, if U.N. agency budgets continue to grow at their present pace, their spending will double in the next 10 years.

A sobering thought, and there is hope that United Nations members will overlook where it came from. The U. S. government itself had a $9.3 billion budget in 1962. A decade later, its budget is projected at $24.6 billion — far more than double.

The entire state, including home rule units of government.

A state lottery was killed by the Senate even though numerous amendments were tacked onto the measure to try to assure passage. (H. 3606).

S. 1548 was recommended "do pass" by the House Elementary Education Committee on May 13, 1971. A State Department memo points out that, if U.N. agency budgets continue to grow at their present pace, their spending will double in the next 10 years.

Until the court acts, the avenue for solution is available to the state in granting relief are in legal doubt.

The high court decision is expected to spell out legal constitutional grounds for abolition of the personal property tax. A bill and a House resolution approved by the auditor general (H. 3031) awaits concurrence of the House with amendments added in the Senate.

A bill (H. 4680) which would have frozen the 1,000 counties which collected by a county collector was tabled by its House sponsor after it was apparent not enough votes were forthcoming to make the measure applicable to

Sen. Knuppel had proposed an alternative plan to abolish all personal property and replace lost revenues with income taxes.

In addition, the Lake Shore Park Legal Center case is pending before the U.S. Supreme Court.

Both tax bills, along with several other proposals for meeting a constitutional mandate to eliminate the personal property tax, were tabled at passage stage in the Senate until President pro tem Cecil Partridge, a Democrat, appointed a six-man committee, three from each party, to come up with a bipartisan solution.

Sen. John Knuppel, Republican, called the amended bill "a very reasonable compromise." H. 4218 would allow a single Illinois corporate taxpayer one statewide deduction, no matter how many counties extracted the tax.

IT'S BACK TO PLUMB New High Court Defies Labels, Judges by the Facts

Copley News Service

The irrepressible "Mr. Dooley," a fictional character created by Finley Peter Dunne, gave voice to a popular satire of his day nearly 75 years ago when he declared:

"No matter whether the Constitution follows the Flag or not, the Supreme Court follows the election returns."

Many contemporary Americans are thinking along the same line as they view recent decisions of the Supreme Court.

They are concerned that the four men named to the court by President Nixon already have given it an indelible conservative cast.

Those who do believe this must have had a bit of a shock upon learning of the court's unanimous decision in the case of Wickard v. Felt.

The court reflected an opinion more likely to be held by a member of the American Civil Liberties Union than by principled conservatives.

Nor can the 8-0 decision in this case be dismissed as a judicial aberration.

In recent months, the court also has held that no person can be jailed even for a day, unless he had the opportunity to be represented by an attorney.

State laws that permit businesses to repossess merchandise arbitrarily without a prior hearing were struck down by the present so-called conservative Supreme Court.

State election laws that require lengthy residency before voting were liberalized.

On the other hand, the court has permitted private clubs to admit or restrict whatever ethnic groups they like.

It has authorized searches without warrants under extraordinary circumstances.

It has limited the immunity of witnesses in criminal trials and has expanded the authority of law enforcement officers in inquests and in "stop and frisk" cases.

These, in their turn, are considered conservative positions.

It is true that there is a definable division on the court. Conservatives cases often find Justices Burger, Blackmun, Powell and Rehnquist on one side and Justices Douglas, Marshall and Stewart on the other, with Justice White alternating.

Also is true that even Justices Burger and Blackmun, nicknamed the "Minnesota Twins," have on occasion disagreed, notably over voter residency requirements.

However, to characterize the present makeup of the Supreme Court as "reactionary" or "conservative" is both premature and shortsighted.

It assumes that the justices enter each case with a predetermined position and vote on philosophies rather than facts.

While conservatives and liberals may weigh facts differently, the Supreme Court is an awe-inspiring institution that brings out the best in men who are eminent in their profession.

Because they take their duties seriously and soberly, the complexity of any court emerges slowly.

In due time, the "Burger Court," like the "Warren Court," before it, may leave its own indelible imprint in history. But the size and shape of it are yet to emerge.

An effort to bring H. 2383 to the Senate calendar was successful last week. The bill would help move Illinois closer to compliance with the federal equal employment opportunity statute.

Sponsored in the Senate by Sen. Richard Neuhouser, Chicago Democrat, the bill would eventually give Illinois exclusive jurisdiction in handling administration and enforcement of alleged job discrimination cases.

Presently there are 38 federal agencies, departments or commissions, two state agencies and 165 local commissions which exercise jurisdiction in Illinois.

The House concurred by a vote of 143-0 in Senate amendments to a bill creating the Illinois Industrial Police of the Federal Financing Authority.

The measure next goes to the governor to sign.

The bill (H. 2555) will become effective immediately upon signing because both houses approved the measure by three-fifths margins.

It will provide a vehicle for financing expensive non-income-producing pollution abatement equipment.

CHURCH WOMEN'S AID, VOLUNTEERS INCREASE

To the Editor: The Quad City Council of Church Women United wishes to express its thanks to the Press-Record for the outstanding coverage you have given over the past year.

The avenues of communication which you have extended to us through your newspaper have made it possible for us to continue our work in the social concern areas of our community.

An increased public awareness of our services has resulted in a broadening of our spectrum to include a greater number of volunteers, as well as increased financial assistance.

People there would know their hard earned dollar wasn't being spent for the use of the greedy advantage of the ever-present thief.

To all, I ask: Did your yard turn up with any lawn furniture recently?

HONOR, TRUST BE REPLACED BY THEFT

To the Editor: Recently, our lawn furniture was taken from our front yard. Not only ours, but also the people one block away from us were victims.

We had a nice set, valued not only because of the monetary value, but also as a birthday gift to me, for my birthday from my husband.

I know that we will never get this set back. But my concern is this: Where are parents when their children bring home these things? Or is the thief an adult?

I tremble in my soul when I think of the kind of world in which I'm bringing up my own children.

We used to have honor and trust among our fellow citizens. Now you can't trust anyone anymore.

We used to teach our children, "Honesty isn't stealing." This is one of God's commandments.

I can't find the ability to be lieve my parents and my grandparents when they tell me how they never had to lock their doors—and how a man's word was his bond. What happened?

You can rest assured that as young parents we will be concerned and will question our children if they show up with something that we didn't purchase.

I think if a few more parents would learn the Ten Commandments, teach them to their children and practice them — plus being a little concerned about where their child is and who he is with—it would help to make a difference in returning to the place where decent, honest and hardworking people could have peace of mind.

People there would know their hard earned dollar wasn't being spent for the use of the greedy advantage of the ever-present thief.

To all, I ask: Did your yard turn up with any lawn furniture recently?

PARTIES MUST SUPPORT DEFENSE OF FREEDOM

To the Editor: With reference to the recent charge by Sen. McGovern that President Nixon is playing politics with the lives of our servicemen in Southeast Asia, it seems to me that the senator's words and actions label him a Viet Cong sympathizer.

If I remember correctly, he had a high opinion of the late Ho Chi Minh, whom he described as a "nationalist."

It is well to remember that Uncle Ho murdered about 70,000 people in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia, it will go down to defeat just as it did in 1960 when it refused to adopt a freedom pledge for the people with dark skin.

Sen. Muskie had a rare opportunity to block U.S. Highway 69 leading to the bridge, covered crops valued at $20,000 and halted construction of a bridge over the proposed Chain of Rocks canal. There is no immediate danger to the Quad-Cities.

Two breaks developed in the Chain of Rocks bridge, allowing flood waters to cover 2,000 acres of Chouteau farmland and forcing workers back to the "second line of defense," the Chouteau-Nameoki-Venue levee.

The Quad-Cities Flood Control District is now working to repair the bridge, which was damaged by a truck. The estimated cost of the bridge over the proposed Chain of Rocks canal. There is no immediate danger to the Quad-Cities.

State Status - Capital Bonds, School Aid Pass

(Springfield Scene)

Gov. Richard B. Ogilvie's capital development bonding program moved into high gear after Chicago Democrats were assured passage of bills to provide money for their schools and the Chicago Transit Authority.

The agreement between Ogilvie's Republican leadership and the Democrats was necessary because neither party had enough votes in either chamber to pass a bill.

The administration's proposal (H. 4614-17)—which is necessary to balance Gov. Ogilvie's FY 1973 budget—would fund $561 million in capital improvements through general obligation bonds.

Sen. James H. Donnewald, Breese Democrat, placed an amendment on H. 4614 calling for a statewide referendum on the matter this fall. However, the amendment was later tabled.

In exchange for the bonding proposal, the Republicans agreed to support the following Democratic bills:

H. 4679 or S. 1475, permitting the Chicago School Board to borrow up to $35 million for operating expenses from its own school building rehabilitation bond fund, with the funds to be repaid in five years.

H. 4539, permitting the Chicago School Board to adopt a supplemental budget utilizing multiple bond issues for a reassessment, in effect a $15 million item.

S. 1588, authorizing the Chicago Transit Authority to use existing facilities as "soft match" to qualify for the major part of the mass transit portion of the $800 million comprehensive transportation bond act.

The House passed and sent to the Governor a package of five bills designed to give Illinois exclusive jurisdiction in administering and enforcing of standards under the federal Occupational Safety and Health Act.

The governor approves the bills, they will go into effect July 1, 1972, allowing the state to begin a three-year process in an administrative hearing to OSHA area and eliminate dual federal-state jurisdiction.

The "agreed to" amendments made for the recording of the same information as is required by the federal OSHA law.

The amendments provide for the reporting of injuries and illnesses which result in the loss of more than one scheduled work day or in the inability of the worker to continue to do his regular job.

Increased Importance Being Attached to Platforms of Political Parties

By MICHAEL O'CONNOR

Copley News Service

WASHINGTON—The importance of party platforms, adopted by Democrats and Republicans at conventions and often quickly forgotten, are looking up as the vehicle for some partisan firestorm at Miami Beach this summer.

Platforms are lengthy documents including broad statements of policy by the party on dozens of major issues.

Politicians historically have discounted the impact of platforms because presidential nominees essentially are not bound to conduct their campaigns on the same philosophical tone.

The deliberations of both parties in Miami Beach, however, may provide a different story.

For the first time since the inception of platforms in the mid-1800s, both Democrats and Republicans are setting new rules for their platforms.

Goal of the changes is to get more rank and file opinion into the hands of delegates assigned to do the drafting.

The Democrats, particularly, are planning a complete overhaul in platform mechanics.

A unique feature is that the party's 3,100 delegates must have a copy of the draft platform 10 days before the convention opens July 10.

Democrats obtained the material for this draft in eight regional hearings which began last month and continued until June 22.

The 150-member platform group met in Washington June 23 for three days to approve the initial draft.

The Democratic convention has been set aside for debate and final vote on the platform.

Republicans also are seeking the grassroots pulse, but will do it a somewhat different way — by sending out 10,000 questionnaire letters to party faithfuls throughout the nation.

"We are tremendously impressed with the interest and thought expressed in an initial 10,000 replies," said Rep James Rhodes, R-Ohio.

He is chairman of the party's resolutions and platform committee.

It is Rhodes' intention to compile to spell out the post of the Nixon administration while catering to some disgruntled conservatives in such areas as foreign policy.

It is obvious to all Republicans that the platform will be a direct reflection of the Nixon record.

However, Rhodes insists that the platform preparations will not be a pro forma function.

"We want fresh and imaginative ideas," Rhodes said.

"We want to involve American citizens in the process of drafting our platform."

Democrats, who say they will avoid major issues in their document, tend to stress the open nature of the platform drafting procedure.

"A rubber stamp — if we ever had one — was thrown away in 1968," an aide to Neustadt said.

Oklahoma, Michigan Residents at Reunion

The class of June 1957 of Granite City High School held its 15-year reunion during the weekend at Augustine's restaurant, Belleville.

Following a social hour and dinner, Pete Sieb, master of ceremonies for the evening, asked for the assistance of four former GCHS cheerleaders in the singing of the school song. They were Barbara (Rhine) Sherman, Lucille (Segedy) Tritschuh, Nancy (Veach) Walker and Ruth (Whitaker) Buer.

Many prizes were awarded, along with the following special awards: traveling farthest to attend the reunion, Nancy (Veach) Walker, 820 miles from St. Ignace, Mich.

Most children, Nancy (Veach) Walker, five children; most recently married, Dennis Laird, four months; oldest child, James Sparks.

Youngest child, "Pete" Robinson, a three-month-old infant; expectant mother, Barbara (Blevins) Stephens; and married longest, Thelma (Horton) Suvar, married 15½ years.

Other class members in attendance who no longer live in Granite City were Sharon (Aubrey) Organ of Edwardsville, Frank Baitreal of Albany, Ga., Beverly (Blaylock) Byrd of Oklahoma City, Okla., Barbara

Gilbert Frith of Pocatamos, Ill., Judy (Geissert) Curry of Highland, Geraldine (Hoffman) Hlicki of Germantown, Tenn., Judy (Hogg) Wadlow of Collinsville, Joan (Horvat) Vogel of Morris, Ill., John Hoy of Warrenton, Mo.

Glenn Huber of Collinsville, Beverly (Huggins) Pounds of East Alton, Judy (Lightner) Reinhardt of Hines, Ill., Roberta (Monken) Arbeiter of Ballwin, Mo., Oliver Schaefer of Greenville, Carolyn (Scherer) Dawson of Rosewood Heights, Judy (Schwartz) Turnbow of Kansas City, Mo., Janice (Steinhausner) Boyer of Vandalia, Megan (Thomas) Thompson of Mt. Zion, Ill., and Ruth (Williams) Eschmann of Belleville.

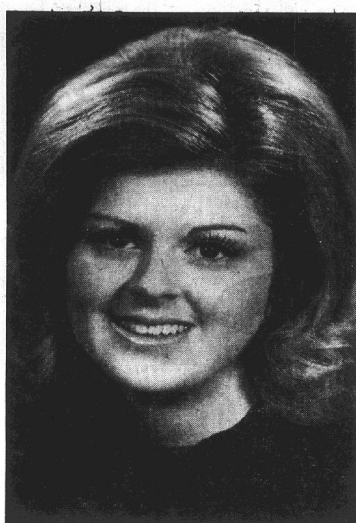

Following the program, the Starlighters furnished music for the evening's entertainment.

Class members who worked on various committees to plan the reunion were Sharon (Aubrey) Organ, Nancy (Barton) Mullen, Faye (Bridges) Hester, Alyce (Briggs) Sigite, Joyce (Deatherage) Schrader.

Yvonne (Flader) Lipchik, Lile Hartzel, Thelma (Heaton) Cuvier, Sharon (Jones) Hodshira, June (Kirk) Ybarra, Roberta (Monken) Arbeiter, Mike O'Dell, Judy (Past) Hinterser, Sandy (Samsouk) Meyer, Pete Sieb, Donna (Teller) Theis and Ruth (Whitaker) Buer.

Baum Accepts Human Rights Post in N.Y.

Dr. Eugene L. Baum and his wife, the former Miss Elane Raub, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Raub, 2318 State St., left Monday for New York where he will assume the post of director of research for the New York State Division of Human Rights.

Dr. Baum, who was formerly in the faculty of the Granite City High School in the English Department, has been an employee of the Human Development Corp. of St. Louis since June 1964.

He was promoted to chief of research and program development while in St. Louis and also served as a consultant and lecturer. He has written many articles on education, philosophy and poverty.

Dr. Baum's new duties, which will cover the entire state of New York, includes investigating labor practices, management procedures, housing, education and health.

Miss Kathryn Raub, 17, a sister of Mrs. Baum, accompanied the couple to their new home. She will begin her senior year at a New York high school and plans to enroll in college near the Baum home.

Dr. Baum, who is recognized as a Shakespearean scholar, has earned three degrees with honors at Washington University. He holds a doctor of philosophy degree and has won two music scholarships.

The educator-administrator has a wide scope of interests. He holds a Civil Air Patrol and private pilot's license and has just completed construction of a single seat, open cockpit sport airplane. He has won many small car auto races and is a past national champion in his sports car's division.

DR. AND MRS. EUGENE BAUM, who left this week for New York where he will assume the position as director of research for the New York State Division of Human Rights. Mrs. Baum is the former Elane Raub, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Raub, 2318 State St.

County Fair to Open July 23: One of 102 in Illinois

Governor Richard B. Ogilvie has proclaimed County Fair Days in Illinois.

This is the period from June 28, the day when the first county fair will be opened, through Sept. 17, when the last scheduled fair is to close.

Ogilvie has sent a certificate of proclamation to Wilbur Federer of Alton, president of the Madison County Fair Association. The Madison County Fair will open with an interfaith religious celebration Sunday, July 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the Madison County Fairgrounds, Highland.

In his proclamation, Gov. Ogilvie says, "There will be 102 county fairs in Illinois this year, offering both young and old the opportunities to renew former friendships and develop new ones and to generate good sportsmanship and a justified pride in their achievements."

"There is something for everyone, urban and rural residents alike, at our state's county fairs," commented Ogilvie. "I urge every resident to support his city, town and county by attending his county fair and visiting neighboring county fairs."

He called county fairs the most cherished of events in Illinois, saying they are community showcases. Ogilvie added: "County fair time is a happy time, when people congregate for friendly competition, to exhibit their livestock, grain and produce, handicrafts and culinary arts and to see what others have to show. "County fair time is a time for gaining new knowledge, for exchanging ideas and experiences, for parades and music, picnics and family reunions."

Test in September For Tax Authorities

Speaking in This Area, Agnew Likens Nixon to Truman, Links McGovern with Henry Wallace

Following are excerpts from a speech by Sen. J. P. Agnew's talk in St. Louis Monday night, attended by a number of Quad-Cityans:

It's always a pleasure to visit Missouri, not only because of your strong and resurgent Republican Party, but because this happens to be the home state of one of my favorite members of the opposition party, Senator President Harry Truman, a great American and a fierce political adversary who 24 years ago taught the Washington experts—and, unfortunately, our own party—a lesson we can't afford to forget during this optimistic summer season.

That was in 1948. A great deal has changed since then, but certain fundamental equalities remain—our international relations, the Presidency and the conduct of political campaigns.

We still live in a world in which the path to lasting peace is tortuous—a world in which the U. S. must turn away from its international responsibilities only at dire risk to our freedom and security.

We still operate under a political system in which, as Harry Truman once said, the buck stops at the desk of the President.

Now, as then, we have a President who has the courage and the will to make the critical decisions necessary to protect that freedom and security.

We still have a political process in which elections are decided not in the sequestered editorial offices of the New York Times or by cockney consensus in the radical chic parlors of Georgetown, but by the people.

A quarter-century ago, Harry Truman proved that when Republicans indulge themselves in surrealist politics and complacency, they can end up in a winter of discontent.

But this is 1972, not 1948, and the elephant, as we know, never forgets. In this political Year of the Elephant, we Republicans have no intention of ignoring the lessons learned through past mistakes.

We are going to work, day and night, from June to November, to make sure that the greatest American Presidents of this century, Richard Nixon and I, are going to bring responsive Republican government to the people of Missouri and all America, at the grassroots.

This is a partisan assignment, but to be sure. But in a larger sense, our mission this year is partisan in the loftiest sense of the word.

At a time when present day locofocos denigrate our country's institutions, Republicans are partisans to the cause of preserving and advancing the ethic and values that have made our society great.

In a political year when strident home-grown critics would have the world believe that ours is an immature, backward and a sick society, we are partisans to the record of an American nation which has performed admirably in meeting its humanitarian and compassionate objectives—nationally and internationally.

In brief, we're partisans to our national posture and heritage. When would-be leaders of this nation propose conspiracy policies which strike at the heart of individual initiative, we are partisans on behalf of the free enterprise system that has made America the envy of the world.

When men who seek the Presidency espouse radical policies which would weaken our nation's defense posture, we are partisans to the concept of peace-with-honor in the 1970s.

Nevertheless, in the Forties as today, there were men of opinion leaders who counseled a policy of American retreat; who would have left America and its allies stripped militarily and who would have had us abandon our commitment to the freedom and security of our country and other nations of the Free World.

Listen to these words, delivered in an acceptance speech by a Presidential candidate at a political convention held in Philadelphia 24 years ago—July 1948:

"If I were President," said Henry Wallace, "there would be no crisis in Berlin... I say the peace of the world is far too fragile to be shunted back and forth through a narrow air corridor in freighter planes..."

"It is said that we must have a showdown or lose prestige," continued this would-be president, one of Harry Truman's 1948 opponents.

"Truman may lose prestige. Dulles may lose prestige. But the American people won't lose prestige by demanding fundamental discussions looking to peace."

"The prestige in Germany went sinking," said Henry Wallace, "when we divided Germany and established the western sector as an American and British Puerto Rico—as a colony."

"When we did that we gave up Berlin politically and we can't lose anything by giving it up militarily in a search for peace."

In other words, surrender Berlin. Ladies and gentlemen, tonight, nearly a quarter-century later, the names and places have changed but the counsel of retreat and surrender of principle reflected in the words just quoted are still very popular in liberal sectors of the American political scene.

For Berlin and Germany, substitute Vietnam.

For Truman, insert Nixon. And for Henry Wallace, substitute the name of a delegate to that Progressive Party convention of 1948—a man who opposed Truman's policies after 1972 but nevertheless seeks in 1972 to be the nominee of Truman's party.

But wait, some may argue. That was 24 years ago. Surely we can't hold a man responsible for views held that long ago.

After all, there were many opponents of President Truman's foreign policy in the years who have learned through experience and since changed their minds.

Why, even the man who spoke those words later repudiated them. In 1963, Henry Wallace himself conceded that he had been "mistaken" 15 years earlier in believing "that Stalin was prepared to be the kind of partner in peace that he had been in war."

A reasonable note of caution against an unfair comparison. Not in this case. The Progressive Party delegate I refer to—the man who would now be the Democratic Party's candidate for President—did not simply hold those views in 1948.

No, far from being distressed by his opposition to Truman's conduct and policies in these years, George McGovern is proud of it even now, in the summer of '72.

Let me quote him: "If we had listened to some of the things Henry Wallace said," Senator McGovern insisted a mere two months ago, "we might have avoided the Korean war and the Vietnam war."

And he's right, too. Just as we would have avoided the Berlin Blockade. Because if we had "listened" to some of the things Henry Wallace said, and which George McGovern still believes in, then Berlin, Korea, Vietnam and Southeast Asia long since would have been surrendered to the forces of aggression.

And the white flag of peace-at-any-price would be the appropriate symbol of the presidency instead of the red, white and blue banner of American security and world stability, which has been upheld by postwar American Presidents from Harry Truman to Richard Nixon.

Yes, Henry Wallace later might have had a change of mind. He might have learned through experience.

But Democratic Party candidate McGovern is as convinced in 1972 as was Progressive Party delegate McGovern in 1948 that these matters. Let me quote him again on the same subject:

"I liked what Wallace had to say about foreign policy," Senator McGovern reiterated only one month ago. "I still think he was essentially correct."

Truman once said that contrary to popular belief, he didn't really give his opponents a hard time. Let me tell the truth about them," he declared, "and they think it's hell."

Before the editorial mandarin of the Times go into their usual swoon over Vice-Presidential rhetoric, let me point out that what I now intend to read isn't my opinion of Senator McGovern's position, or my words. It's his own position.

I was George McGovern, not anyone else, who said he likes "what (Henry) Wallace had to say about foreign policy" and still thinks "he was essentially correct."

If quoting McGovern's self-declared foreign policy position is considered by his sympathizers to play hell, so be it. They have no one to blame but the rash rhetoric of their own candidate.

I quote from the Henry Wallace party foreign policy plank embodied by Delegate McGovern 24 years ago and by Candidate McGovern only last month:

"We demand the repudiation of the Truman Doctrine..." Does George McGovern, in June 1972, really believe that a foreign policy plank based on a repudiation of the Truman Doctrine in 1948 was "essentially correct"?

No, far from being distressed by his opposition to Truman's conduct and policies in these years, George McGovern is proud of it even now, in the summer of '72.

Let me quote him: "If we

Because if we had "listened" to some of the things Henry Wallace said, and which George McGovern still believes in, then Berlin, Korea, Vietnam and Southeast Asia long since would have been surrendered to the forces of aggression.

And the white flag of peace-at-any-price would be the appropriate symbol of the presidency instead of the red, white and blue banner of American security and world stability, which has been upheld by postwar American Presidents from Harry Truman to Richard Nixon.

Yes, Henry Wallace later might have had a change of mind. He might have learned through experience.

But Democratic Party candidate McGovern is as convinced in 1972 as was Progressive Party delegate McGovern in 1948 that these matters. Let me quote him again on the same subject:

"I liked what Wallace had to say about foreign policy," Senator McGovern reiterated only one month ago. "I still think he was essentially correct."

Truman once said that contrary to popular belief, he didn't really give his opponents a hard time. Let me tell the truth about them," he declared, "and they think it's hell."

Before the editorial mandarin of the Times go into their usual swoon over Vice-Presidential rhetoric, let me point out that what I now intend to read isn't my opinion of Senator McGovern's position, or my words. It's his own position.

I was George McGovern, not anyone else, who said he likes "what (Henry) Wallace had to say about foreign policy" and still thinks "he was essentially correct."

If quoting McGovern's self-declared foreign policy position is considered by his sympathizers to play hell, so be it. They have no one to blame but the rash rhetoric of their own candidate.

I quote from the Henry Wallace party foreign policy plank embodied by Delegate McGovern 24 years ago and by Candidate McGovern only last month:

"We demand the repudiation of the Truman Doctrine..." Does George McGovern, in June 1972, really believe that a foreign policy plank based on a repudiation of the Truman Doctrine in 1948 was "essentially correct"?

No, far from being distressed by his opposition to Truman's conduct and policies in these years, George McGovern is proud of it even now, in the summer of '72.

Let me quote him: "If we had listened to some of the things Henry Wallace said," Senator McGovern insisted a mere two months ago, "we might have avoided the Korean war and the Vietnam war."

And he's right, too. Just as we would have avoided the Berlin Blockade. Because if we had "listened" to some of the things Henry Wallace said, and which George McGovern still believes in, then Berlin, Korea, Vietnam and Southeast Asia long since would have been surrendered to the forces of aggression.

And the white flag of peace-at-any-price would be the appropriate symbol of the presidency instead of the red, white and blue banner of American security and world stability, which has been upheld by postwar American Presidents from Harry Truman to Richard Nixon.

State to Push for Annexations To the Junior College Districts

Copley News Service

Springfield — There may be as many as five, or as few as one, new junior college districts established in Illinois to comply with new laws that every area in the state shall be part of a junior college district by Aug. 1, 1974.

With many of the community college districts which mushroomed up all over the state in recent years now having serious financial difficulties, or declining enrollments, or both, emphasis is being put on annexation to existing districts rather than establishment of still more public hometown junior colleges.

In areas along the state's borders, negotiations may be undertaken to use existing colleges which lie in neighboring states.

A Task Force set up by the Illinois Junior College Board to draw up guidelines for future new districts and annexations has recommended that new districts only be established now if the area involved has a population of at least 100,000 persons, has an assessed valuation of at least $250,000,000 and an estimated student population of at least 1,000 full time equivalent students — a figure which would be met in 2,000 in the Chicago metropolitan area.

Nothing there are five large chunks of area in the state not yet part of a junior college district which meet all the requirements for establishing a new district, the task force suggests that four of these could be served by annexing instead.

The fifth, which lies in western Illinois and has a population of more than 200,000 scattered through all or part of 10 counties, presumably would have to form a new district.

All other remaining areas are too small to consider anything but annexation, in the view of the Task Force.

The other four large districts include one, along the Lake Michigan shore north of Chicago, with a population of at least 200,000 and "ample wealth to provide a fine college," and another in Cook County just west of Chicago with a population of 100,000.

Two others stretch roughly across the center of the state, with one in central Illinois having a population of 175,000 and another in south central Illinois with about 100,000 population, including the Quad-Cities and the Collinsville area.

The Task Force's report will be submitted to the IJCIB at a July 21 meeting at Illinois Valley Community College, near Oglesby.

Forecasting one probable area of difficulty in annexation, the report will recommend that primary consideration in annexing be given to geographic accessibility, not the "tax rates of adjacent existing districts," though this may mean separating portions of a district in order to conform to a "logical pattern of annexation."

Two Men Arrested at Scene of Burglary

Two men were arrested at the scene of a burglary at the Valencia Tasty Cream Drive-in, 2941 Johnson Road, on Monday. A third man fled when officers approached.

Charged with burglary and possession of burglary tools were David Miller, 20, of 2209 Lee Ave., and Jack Gallis, 20, of Rural Route One.

An officer on patrol noticed a 1964 station wagon on the parking lot at the drive-in and saw a young man run from it, headed north on Wabash Avenue. Two others were detained at the vehicle.

Checking the area, officers discovered that the front service window was broken open and the front door was open. A report said police found 10 rolls of pennies, a half gallon can, 42 packages of cigarettes, a screwdriver and tools in the vehicle.

Police were told that the cigarettes were not from the drive-in.

Scottish Bagpipe Band Hits Charts With Hymn

By JUDY HUGG
Copley News Service

If you had gone to Nick the Greek recently as two months ago to place money on the chances of a recording of a hymn played on a bagpipe making the hit chart, he would have laughed you out of Las Vegas. Yet, this is what has happened to "Amazing Grace" played by the Royal Scots Dragoon Guards with a bagpipe solo by Bagpipe Major Tony Cease. Having played the bagpipes in the high school band, I know all the wheezy old jokes—the one about how bagpipe players always march while playing because they're trying to get away from the noise. It is not an easy instrument to play—something like playing a flute with the added complication of coordinating a squeezing motion of your arm to keep the bag filled with air. But properly played, the music has a wild, free song that has inspired Scots and led their fighting men into battle for 2,000 years.

"Amazing Grace" gained popularity as a single in England sometime in April, when a London disc jockey played it and sparked an amazing number of requests. Next it became an smash in Australia, Canada and Europe, and just recently was rushed into the American market.

After its first ten days of release, the single had sold in excess of 200,000 copies. And now RCA Records has released the full album by the Pipes and Drums and Military Band of the Royal Scots Dragoon Guards. In addition to the title tune, "Amazing Grace," there are two more religious songs, "Gathering Home" and "Abide With Me," both played with reverence and sense of peace that belies the warlike connotations of the instruments played by "the Ladies from Hell" as the Scots were known by their adversaries. There are more lively tunes, as well — "Highland Laddie," "Bonnie Dundee," and that inspiring Welsh tune "Men of Harlech."

Stirring, Moving Music. This is stirring, moving music. If you are already a fan of the bagpipes, you are sure to want this album. If you are not an aficionado of Highland music, perhaps this album will convert you to a fan. Peter Nero is one of the few artists who are at home with jazz and concert music. In his two-record set for RCA-Victor, "This Is Peter Nero," selections cover a period of recording from 1961 to 1967. The tunes range from the jazzy "Take The 'A' Train," to the swinging "Sweet Georgia Brown" and on to the Latin tempo in "The Girl From Ipanema" and "Guantanamera." His interpretation of "The Impossible Dream" is a superb example of how he transforms the piano into a "singing" instrument with beauty of tone and the ultimate consideration.

It's ethnic humor pure and simple and it wears very well as does the storyteller Myron Cohen. He doesn't drag out the stories, he lays it all out, with his new "Time Loop" album for accent and dialect and taste. His RCA-Victor album "This Is Myron Cohen," a two-record set, recorded live at the Royal Box at the Americana in New York and the Eden Roc in Miami Beach, Fla., is a sensutime! Cohen covers all subjects, mothers-in-law, wives, husbands and believe it or not, the Sahara Desert! You'll also hear stories about the late Max Baer in New York.

Cohen has been entertaining for almost a quarter-century. He appears wherever there is still "live" entertainment as well as TV specials and talk shows.

This album will make you laugh, that's what it's all about! It's always interesting to take a journey and it's more fun if you can go with someone else.

Well, Chet Nichols invites you to take a journey with him on his new "Time Loop" album for Kama Sutra. The journey starts in the early morning with a beautiful song to "Electra" and continues through a box of imagines that ends with a lullaby called "Quasar Sleep." Two of the album's better cuts, which were all written and composed by Nichols, are "Electra" and the title song "Spinning On The Time Loop." But this album has a song for every mood from loneliness to revenge to love lost and love found. For life is a time loop and Chet Nichols is singing about life from life.

Speed Timer in Use For Campus Traffic

A Vascar speed timer is now being used by security officers at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern in an effort to reduce speeding on campus.

Carl C. Foster, head of the security office, said the timer would replace the patrol car speedometer as a measurement tool. Trained officers can use the unit to determine the speed of an automobile whether the security car is parked or moving, and regardless of the relative positions or direction of travel of the cars.

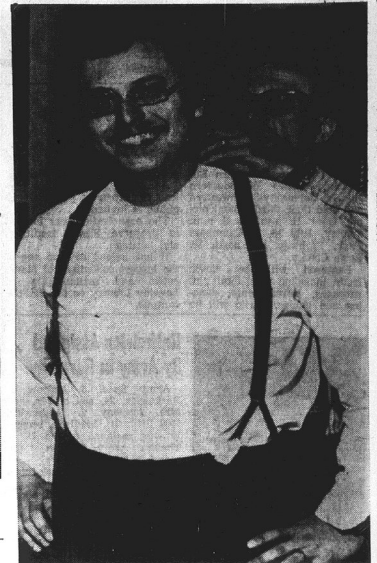

Officers will use fixed reference points for distance measurements. The Vascar unit contains a timing device which indicates the average speed in miles-per-hour between any two known points. Illinois State Police began experimental work with Vascar units in 1967.

Foster said speeding motorists will be warned for a period of 30 days, unless flagrant violations are observed. "One car was clocked at 94.7 miles an hour recently on South University Drive," Foster said, "and this is the kind of speeder we must stop. That type of driving is dangerous anywhere, especially on a crowded university campus."

VASCAR UNIT CHECKS SPEEDERS. Joe Hickman, security officer at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern, uses a Vascar timing device to clock motorists on campus.

Firemen Plan Car Wash For Boy Going Blind

Granite City firemen will hold a benefit car wash from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, July 8, at the main fire station. Proceeds will go to a travel fund for the young son of Police Patrolman Albert Young.

The boy is going blind from incurable eye disease and hopes to see some of the historic and scenic sights of America while he can.

Advance tickets at $1 per car are being sold and will be available at the station on the day of the wash.

Property Tax Relief For Disabled, Elderly

By GOVERNOR RICHARD B. OGILVIE

We did it! We won substantial property tax relief for elderly and disabled persons, homeowners and those who rent.

By an overwhelming vote, the Illinois General Assembly approved my plan to give the largest monetary commitment of any state to our senior citizens and to others who are totally disabled.

Certain changes were made in the proposal I first made March 13, and our legislators deserve full credit for their thoughtful consideration and their reasoned improvements.

For one thing, the proposal was extended to include disabled persons. The maximum benefit was raised from $300 to $500.

And the application of the bill was tailored to give maximum help to persons with the lowest incomes, with a top limit of $10,000 income.

All these, I think, are improvements, and they illustrate the essential wisdom of our form of government.

I will be happy to sign the bill shortly, but let me caution you that it does not take effect until next Jan. 1.

Press accounts have been accurate on its provisions, but for those of you who will be affected—or have parents or friends—I will try to take you through the specifics.

First—your income: This is the total income of the individual or family applying and includes all income taxable under federal laws, plus Social Security payments which are not taxable, private pension payments, and non-reportable payments of any kind, such as bonds free from federal tax.

Thus, when you apply for a grant from state funds during Jan. 1, you must do some homework on your total income figures.

Who is eligible to apply for relief? Any person 65 or older—whether husband, wife or individual—who pays taxes or on the home he occupies, or who pays rent for a place in which he lives.

Eligibility is also extended to persons or families if any member of the disabled from Social Security regulations, and provides for medical examination of those not under Social Security at the applicant's expense.

How homeowners can figure their maximum state grant: First find your income, then divide by 100. Multiply this figure by $5, and subtract the result from $500.

Renters follow exactly the same rule. Perhaps an illustration would be helpful here:

Your income is $5,500. Dividing by 100 gives a figure of 55.

Over 50,000 Drivers Fail

Last year alone, over 50,000 Illinois licensed drivers failed the state written examination. This year the number of drivers that will fail could jump to a hundred thousand or more. Experts say — "One reason is, that rules and regulations change, and even some good safe drivers just don't keep up with the new laws." If your license expires this year, you may be among the hundreds of thousands that will be re-examined in 1972. So if you're nervous about taking the state written exam, here's

Seek Crime Lab Near An Interstate Road

The St. Clair-Madison County Chiefs of Police Association called for development of a regional crime laboratory in the Collinsville-Fairview Heights area at its June meeting.

The chiefs prefer a site accessible to interstate highways and in a municipality where maximum security could be given.

Use of the former Nike missile site near Madison, suggested by State's Attorney R. W. Griffith, was dismissed as being too far from a municipality and unable to be patrolled regularly, the chiefs felt.

Granite City Chief Ronald Vizzer said the lab should be located near an interstate highway so that travel time could be cut.

ARRESTED IN RAIL YARD

A 13-year-old Madison boy was arrested by Chicago & North Western Railroad detectives in the railroad's yards near Madison this week after he allegedly drove several new automobiles in the yard, wrecking them. Another youth who fled was identified and is to be taken to police today by his mother. The auto was from Arco Auto Carriers at the end of Farish Street.

New Liquor Store Health Certificates Awarded GC Students Included in 16 Building Permits

Sixteen building permits, including one for a liquor store, listing values totaling $80,829 have been issued for new construction in Granite City.

The permit for the liquor store was issued to B. C. Gitch, 3304 Nameoski Road, with construction cost listed at $50,000. Gitch also has obtained a city liquor license to operate the establishment, the Corral Liquor Store. Gitch obtained a permit to raze a building at the same site at a cost of $900.

Also obtaining a commercial permit was Donald Partney to erect a pre-fab building at 2600 Missouri Ave., at a cost of $17,000.

The week's activity boosted the June total to 60 permits with values at $781,649. Other permits were obtained by:

Walter Bruch, 2731 Michigan Ave., replace garage, $1,000; John Hamm, 2444 Kilarney Drive, carport, $1,200; Thomas, 2832 Dogwood Drive, garage, $1,000; Gerald Carpenter, 2913 Sunset Drive, garage, $1,000; Wayne, 1632 Spring Ave., garage, $1,000.

SIU-SW Stresses Involvement in New Approaches to Public Service

(Community involvement and public service are cornerstones of contemporary higher education which is changing rapidly on a national scale. This is the last in a series of articles on new approaches to education and public service being tried at SIU-SW.)

"We're going to stress community involvement at this University," says Andrew Kochman, vice-president and provost of Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

"We must look at what the University can do to meet the needs of the community at large, not just the academic community."

In conjunction with initiating innovative academic programs on the Southwestern campus, planners at SIU-SW are working to apply the University's resources to persons not on the campus.

President John S. Rendleman cites a continuing commitment to East St. Louis, where the University operates the Experiment in Higher Education, the Performing Arts Training Center and the Manpower Development Training Program.

"Not everything we've tried in East St. Louis has come to us as intended," Rendleman said. "The University must awaken to the fact that it doesn't have panaceas to problems. All we can be is the intellectual plowman. We're going to stay in East St. Louis, put our role in a practical context and live up to it."

Special Curriculum

The largest of SIU-SW's programs in East St. Louis is the Experiment in Higher Education, started in 1968 to meet special needs of the educationally and financially disadvantaged student. It is designed to provide students with the first two years of college education by a specially trained faculty using a specially designed curriculum.

With the assistance of state and federal grants, units at SIU-SW such as the Delinquency Study and Youth Development Center train correctional personnel in workshops held throughout the Midwest and the Business Division's Housing Management Institute conducts sessions for public housing personnel.

Specialists in urban problems attached to SIU-SW's Regional and Urban Development Studies and Services unit have published more than 200 studies dealing with area development needs since 1960 and have worked with various community agencies in consultant capacities.

Plans for expanded outreach and community service programs are being developed in the SIU-SW Education Division, said Dean W. Deane Wiley.

"A major thrust will be massive in-service training for teachers," Wiley said. "Whole school districts are in the process of trying to change their programs and their staff must be carried along. If the staff needs to learn about innovations like flexible scheduling or needs updating in knowledge to teach subjects where knowledge becomes obsolete quickly, that's where we're here for."

Programs Will Grow

Wiley said outreach programs at the graduate level will blossom and grow in the next months to three years. "We'll continue to train school administrative personnel. The main change will be in methodology and process—the how of training. For instance, we're beginning to perceive a counselor as more than just a school counselor, so we'll stress boarder training to prepare the person to work in prisons and halfway houses and places besides schools."

The division plans to move into entirely new areas, he said.

"A major thrust will be community service, working with the mayors of cities. The Office of Economic Opportunity, Neighborhood Youth Corps and others," Wiley said. "Mostly this is at the talking stage, but we're reaching the point of definite agreements."

Already established within the Education Division is the Special Education Center, for training persons studying to be teachers of exceptional children. Diagnostic facilities are available for children between the ages of three and 13 with behavior disorders or learning disabilities. The center serves Madison, St. Clair and adjacent counties.

Parents, physicians, school and welfare agency personnel may refer children to the center, where individualized programs are then designed by SIU-SW students and faculty.

Community service also is provided by students and faculty of the Speech and Hearing Center. Students majoring in speech and audiology pathology work at the center with persons having communications problems. No fees are charged for students, faculty or their families using the center, and persons outside the University needing help never are turned away for lack of funds. Many clients are pre-school children, but there are a number of adolescent and adult clients.

Aphasia, stuttering, poor articulation, hearing loss, delayed language development and other speech and hearing problems are treated at the center. In the field of health care, too, the University is combining its educational mission with community service. A master's degree program in nursing, waiting to be approved by the Illinois Board of Higher Education, would mean an opportunity for nurses to remain in the area and work while upgrading their education.

Earline Flottman, director of the proposed master's program, said inquiries about it have been received in numbers far beyond the 10 openings planned for the first year.

Nurses already established in the area are keenly interested in improving their academic stature but either don't want to be uprooted from their ties to southern Illinois or can't afford to be," she said. Mrs. Flottman said the only master's programs in nursing offered in Illinois are located in the Chicago area.

The new SIU-SW School of Dental Medicine, to open with its first class in September, hopes to graduate dentists who will remain in central and southern Illinois to practice, said Dean Dr. Frank Sobkowksi.

An innovative three calendar year curriculum has been designed to make the best use of facilities and faculty and to graduate dentists a year sooner than the normal curriculum would allow. The dental school is the only one in the state outside Cook County.

Being renovated now at the dental school are two buildings to serve as a care facility, providing oral health services to area residents selected as patients for SIU-SW students under faculty supervision.

State Expanding Campaign Against Social Diseases

Copley News Service

St. Paul, Minn. — A stepped-up campaign to halt further spread of venereal disease — especially gonorrhea — will be undertaken soon in Illinois, backed by a two-year federal grant for $300,000.

Chief goal in the campaign will be to bring under control the soaring increases in gonorrhea, most prevalent reportable communicable disease in the state.

Dr. Franklin D. Yoder, state health department director, said that presently there are more cases of gonorrhea reported annually than all other communicable disease combined.

In Illinois last year, 50,337 cases were reported, but public health officials estimate the real number of cases is probably between 150,000 and 200,000, since approximately two-thirds of the actual cases are not reported.

With the aid of the federal funds, the department plans to add some staff members. It also will intensify a screening program and follow-up treatment for contacts of all male gonorrhea patients.

Chief target of the expanded program, however, will be the female who has been infected but does not show symptoms.

An estimated 90% of women infected with gonorrhea do not show symptoms, Dr. Yoder said, whereas most men experience painful symptoms within three or four days after being infected and they ordinarily seek out a doctor for treatment.

"The pill," says Griffin, not only helps the victim of venereal disease by encouraging greater sexual freedom, but sets up a body "climate" which also encourages the growth of the gonorrhea organism.

Emphasis is put on the 15-35 year age group, because approximately 85% of gonorrhea cases are in this bracket, and more women in this age group than any other use birth control pills.

Agnew Speech

publication of the Marshall Plan and the postwar years was "essentially correct?"

Would that brand of ostrich-isolationism be indicative of the foreign policy of a McGovern administration would consider "essentially correct?" It's a question the senator himself has raised by his own rhetoric. Just as Henry Wallace would have repudiated America's commitment to freedom in Berlin and Western Europe, McGovern, the last of the Henry Wallaces, has based his own candidacy for President squarely on a program of abandoning and leaving defenseless the people of Vietnam and Southeast Asia.

If McGovern still insists that Henry Wallace was "essentially correct" in his foreign policy views — even though these views were later repudiated by Wallace himself — it's not too much to wonder in view of his present ambitions, what the senator now believes about the economic policies advanced by his Progressive Party candidate in 1948.

For example, the Progressive Party platform plank entitled "Breaking the Grip of Monopoly" said, "Monopoly's grip on the economy must be broken if democracy is to survive and economic planning become possible."

"Experience has shown that anti-trust laws and government regulation are not by themselves sufficient to halt the growth of monopoly. The only solution is public ownership of key areas of the economy."

I continue to quote from the Henry Wallace presidential platform of 1948: "As a first step, the largest banks, the railroads, the merchant marine, the electric power and gas industry, and industries primarily dependent on government funds or government purchases such as the aircraft, the synthetic rubber and synthetic oil industries must be placed under public ownership."

The meaning of these words is clear enough. But the Henry Wallace party, for all its ultra-radical leftist line, was a minor movement on the American political scene.

What is of more than passing interest in 1972 is that a delegate to the Henry Wallace party convention of 1948 now seeks the nomination for presidency on the ticket of one of America's two major parties, and that he himself has indicated that the passage of 24 years has not cooled his ardor for the radicalism of the Henry Wallace movement.

Does McGovern still believe in the "essential" correctness of Henry Wallace's economic program to socialize basic American industries?

In view of the senator's socialistic "income redistribution plan," his advocacy of federal condemnation of land to force the integration of communities, and his soak the middle-income-earner tax proposals — I think the American people are entitled to know the answer to that question as well.

In a matter of days, McGovern's views, foreign and domestic, will be the primary focus of attention of his fellow Democrats at Miami Beach.

From this vantage point, it isn't clear how many of the senator's political colleagues are pondering the fact that the unrepentant McGovern who now seeks the mantle of leadership worn by Truman is the same foreign policy grounds that he now opposes the policies of a Republican President.

Nor is it yet clear, aside from the political fortunes of McGovern as an individual, the extent to which the

Hearings on Regulations Expanding Rights of All Students in State

Copley News Service
Springfield — The rights of students in Illinois public schools are being spelled out in a section of a new program for recognition, supervision and evaluation of schools now being drafted.

The student rights section of the program, still in tentative form pending public hearings, guarantees that a student has right to pupil personnel services such as guidance and counseling, school health services and psychological and a social work services.

Also listed are as the right to free expression, due process, "a safe and pleasant physical environment within his school," and teachers who are "competent and able to relate to the frame of reference of youngsters with whom they are in contact."

In addition, the draft provides that students must have the right to participate in planning and execution of school programs and activities, and guarantees their rights to hold office in any school governing body regardless of disciplinary or academic standing.

The student rights section is one part of a comprehensive overhaul of recognition standards which is being proposed by the office of State Supt. Michael Bakalis.

Public hearings on the entire program have been scheduled for July 17 in Mount Vernon, for July 18 in Springfield, for July 20 in DeKalb and for July 21 at the Circle campus of the University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign.

The pupils' rights sections are an outgrowth of recommendations in the "Action Goals for the Seventies" released by Bakalis' office. One section of that statement calls for a "new code of rights to be written, and for dissemination of that code — to include 'provisions for freedom of expression'."

virtus of McGovernism — that is, the doctrine of retreat overseas and radicalism at home — has pervaded the body politic of the once-great Democratic Party of Harry Truman.

In my judgment, something else does come through loud and clear: Regardless of who is nominated at the Democratic convention in Miami Beach, come November the American people are going to see a record number of return Richard Nixon to the Presidency for another four years.

We are going to re-elect our President. We are going to do it through one of the greatest grassroots efforts in American history. We are going to do it working together — not simply Republicans, but independents, along with traditional Democrats who cannot abide the takeover of their party by the arrogant and shortsighted politicians of a repudiated radicalism from out of the American past.

The Nixon administration looks to the future, not the past. And we invite all those who share our vision of America's future to join our fold.

For in this summer of preparation, and in the coming autumn of the intense effort, ours will not be a campaign on behalf of party alone.

We are workers in the cause of peace, prosperity, security and progress for our country and the world in which we live.

President Truman said it: "Progress occurs when courageous, skillful leaders seize the opportunity to change things for the better."

In Richard Nixon, we have such a leader in the White House now. With your help and that of millions of Americans who place country before party, we are going to keep him there, working for America's future, four more years.

sion, freedom of the student press, freedom of association in organizations, participation in school governance, individually in appearance standards for disciplinary cases."

Completion is set for 1972. Vito Bianco, director of professional relations and services in the superintendent's office, said the proposed bill of rights will be guidelines rather than specific requirements.

Mary Kloris of the department of pupil service, who worked with those actually drafting the program, said that compliance will be required but each school district and school will have to work out its own method of assuring the provisions.

Whatever they do, they must file written reports with the superintendent office outlining their plans.

Though the "Action Goals" speaks of regulations guaranteeing "individuality in appearance" and "freedom of the student press," Mary Kloris said specific standards probably will not be spelled out.

"We won't say, for instance, that dresses can't be more than three inches above the knee," she said, while Bianco said the general guide probably will be that anything which does not disrupt the school activities would be acceptable.

The draft also proposes three areas of student responsibility: "To respect the rights and duties of others," "to not disrupt the process of education or interfere with the education of fellow students, and recognition that students unable to do these things must not expect full access to any school system, but must have alternative schooling made available."

STEAK A BOY TO CAMP PROCEEDS presented Monday to Allen Jesse (right), treasurer of the Cahokia Mound Council, Boy Scouts of America, by Bob Allen (left), manager of the George Lindsey Steak House in the American Village Shopping Center. The restaurant donated 10% of the gross sales over the Memorial Day weekend to the scout council to aid in sending boys to Camp Sunnen, Potosi, Mo., this summer.

Two Persons Injured, Auto Hits Utility Pole

Two persons were injured when an auto driven by Robert H. Cavness, 27, of 2625 Lincoln Ave., avoiding oncoming traffic, swerved into a utility pole at 1:05 a.m. Tuesday on Route 162 eight-tenths of a mile east of Route 303.

Cavness was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital for lacerations to the scalp and forehead and lower back pains and was released following x-rays.

A passenger, Terry Cleveland, 25, of 2256 State St., also was hurt.

Daley-Stevenson Battle Dividing Illinois Demos

By KEN WATSON
Copley News Service

Springfield — The Illinois Democratic leadership today is more bitterly divided than at any time since World War II. Nobody among the top echelon appears to have any use for anyone else.

That fierce battle for the post as chairman of the National Convention delegates revealed the deeply etched divisions among the party hierarchy.

Most obvious in importance was the ending of the "truce of Libertyville" and the return to political warfare between the chairman Victor Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley and his unfortunate challenger, U. S. Sen. Adlai E. Stevenson III.

This power struggle is once again under way and well may continue indefinitely until either Daley is pulled down once and for all as the last of the big city bosses or Stevenson finds his own political career derailed, possibly in the 1974 senatorial election.

Stevenson right now appears faced with a two-front struggle for state party leadership. The chairman fight disclosed he is continuing to drift away from a close relationship with Daniel Walker, the party's nominee for governor who served as a top aide to Stevenson in the latter's successful 1970 campaign for Senate.

Walker Busy
Despite some denial it has been conclusively proven that Walker's own campaign manager, Victor DeGracia, was working behind the scenes to bludge the Stevenson move to unseat Daley as convention chairman.

Relations between Stevenson and Walker have long been strained since Walker persisted in his primary challenge to Lt. Gov. Paul Simon, whom Stevenson as well as Daley endorsed for the governor nomination.

Walker, since his surprising primary triumph, has made no significant progress in fashioning party unity and has, in fact, shown no real inclination to do so. He continues to campaign pretty much as an independent, presumably in the belief that voters are anti-establishment and will support anyone not identified with the powers to be politically as well as otherwise.

Arrangement Satisfactory
At the Statehouse there is a feeling that such an arrangement is entirely satisfactory to Daley, Stevenson and Simon who are less than enthusiastic about campaigning for Walker anyway. Daley, it is believed, may concentrate on his Cook county ticket, Stevenson who still nourishes vice presidential if not presidential ambitions, will probably be concentrating on the national campaign.

Simon, reportedly will be concentrating his fall efforts on behalf of an old friend and ally, State Auditor Michael J. Howlett, now running for secretary of state.

Howlett, who is enjoying the friendliest relations in years with Mayor Daley, is running virtually an independent campaign downstate and dismaying some regular Democrats by consistently speaking favorably about as well as privately of Republican President Richard M. Nixon.

Statehouse wags are quipping about the Illinois "four party" ticket of Howlett and Nixon. To round out the Democrat ticket, some Illinois liberals also are quietly resentful about reliable reports that an old hero, former U. S. Sen. Paul H. Douglas joined in the telephone arm-twisting that enabled Daley to head off Stevenson in the convention chairman

Under the old rules of politics Illinois Republicans would have a great opportunity to win votes out of Democrat division.

Electric heat is a hit at new twin theatres

The Jerry Lewis twin theatres in LaSalle, Illinois, are a modern concept in movie entertainment. Open every night and for Saturday and Sunday matinees, they feature a selection of family entertainment in colorful and comfortable surroundings.

The approach to comfort for the theatre's patrons is also modern. The building is heated by six electric furnaces installed on the roof. The same units also provide ventilation and cooling.

In many commercial buildings like these, where comfort of the public is a prime consideration, electric heat is winning the specification. In addition, space-saving electric heat units can save on construction and maintenance costs.

The optional automatic stick shift in the Super Beetle doesn't have a clutch pedal.

Just a stick you don't shift much. Drive 1 drives you all over town. Drive 2 drives you up and down the highway. Stop by and shift for yourself.
